

APRIL FOOLS. Quite a number of our town officials and other dignitaries were April fooled on Thursday. Our Town Clerk had numerous calls from persons sent in post haste, supposing he had something important that they should know or have. But he politely informed them that it was the first of April. Thomas E. was sent in two or three places; Fredrick missed the cars, being sent on a fool's errand to the apothecary's.

Quite a number of jokes were played at the State House, and our earnest temperance friend was among the victims. He made all haste to Speaker Noyes in answer to an "April" note, informing him that his immediate presence was required to defeat a proposed scheme to annihilate his pet "screen" lobby. He was also lured into the "div" gallery by the contents of a lively narrative purporting to have been written by Mrs. Livermore, and shortly after his snapping eyes could be seen peering into the faces of the fair sex ensconced in the gloomy recesses of their sanctum.

CHRIST CHURCH. The celebration of Easter at Christ Church last Sunday was very interesting, and despite the weather, there was quite a good gathering at the several services. The Church looked beautiful in its dress of flowers, and we think that Mr. Hunt, the decorator, displayed exquisite taste in his arrangement. He easily outdid by Mr. DeWolfe, and other members of the society. The lovely cross, made of red and white tulips, which stood in front of the chancel, was the offering of Mrs. Peter B. Quincy.

The Sunday School assisted the choir, and the singing was excellent. The three o'clock service was the children's, and the classes of the Sunday School were well represented. The pastor spoke in his usual pleasant manner to the children about the missionary work among the Indians.

The offerings at that service were for the education of some of that race which the society had pledged themselves to take care of.

At the close of the services, the children were each presented with a post containing a beautiful print.

IN MEMORIAM. Mr. Henry A. Gay, a well known and highly respected citizen of this town, died suddenly on Tuesday afternoon, of congestion of the lungs, after a sickness of less than two days. His pleasant and genial manner was for him a host of friends, who deeply lament his loss, and sympathize with the widow and daughter in their great bereavement. Mr. Gay was the first depot master at the center station, which position he held for many years, and by his obliging manner endeavored himself to all who had occasion to transact any business with him. While attending to the duties connected with the station, some years since, he was severely injured by being caught between two cars which he was shuffling, and he never entirely recovered from those injuries.

He was buried on Thursday afternoon in Mount Wollaston Cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOL EXHIBITION. A prize exhibition in physical exercises was given at the Quincy High School, on Friday morning last week, under the direction of Miss E. M. Mallon. Many parents and friends of the scholars were present to witness the exhibition, and they were much pleased. The prizes consisted of ten books; six of the pupils were awarded first prizes; viz: Anna Perry, Annie Crane, Minnie Nightingale, George Emerson, James Whiting and William Dewson. Second prizes were awarded to Lizzie M. Brewer, Nellie W. Warren, Lizzie Pease and Annie Perry.

Drs. W. L. Faxon and J. A. Gordon acted as judges and awarded the prizes.

SENTENCED. Langdon W. Moore, the most skilled bank robber in this country, and who has been connected with nearly all the successful bank robberies in New England for the past fifteen years, was sentenced on Tuesday to sixteen years in the State Prison, for having burgled tools, and ten years for breaking and entering the Southwestern Post Office. Moore is now 32 years of age, and if our officers succeed in keeping him caged until he is seventy, he will not probably do much more bank robbing. This rogue was visited by Quincy on Tuesday, and had decided to rob the Mount Wollaston Bank; but fortunately he was caught at Charlestown, and our deposits are safe.

CONCERT. We are happy to announce that a concert and entertainment is being arranged for the benefit of Mr. George T. Elliot, who has lately returned from New York, to be given at the Town Hall, some time during the latter part of this month.

The programme will consist of solos, quartettes, readings, humorous sketches by Mr. W. C. Pierce, instrumental solos by Mr. T. P. Hyder, &c. The two choirs will also be present, and render several of their choruses.

Full particulars will be given in our next issue.

ARRESTED. A young lad about thirteen years of age, named Manuel F. Brooks, belonging to Cohasset, was arrested on Wednesday by Officer Farnall. The boy had run away from home three weeks ago, and had been canvassing for a paper in this place, but his subscribers failed to receive the paper. He gave the name of Cyrus Brooks, and told a very plausible story. His parents reside in Cohasset, and he told the officer he should like to stay at home and go to school, if he could dress as well as the other boys. He was sent home by the officer.

DISSOLVED. The firm of O. T. Rogers & Co. is dissolved. This company was formed in the granite business in 1852, forty-two years ago, and was on Wednesday last the oldest granite firm probably in the State. Mr. Joseph Buntin and Mr. Samuel Hubbard, the two gentlemen which composed the firm of late, are well known and respected by our citizens. Although residing in East Milton, they carried on business in Quincy, and seemed like citizens of this town.

ACCIDENTS. Mr. Timothy Moriarty had his leg badly injured at the granite works of Frederick & Field, on Thursday morning, by a stone, which he was moving, slipping upon it.

The same day Mr. Albert H. Daley lost one of his little fingers, while assisting in moving granite, at D. H. Bliss' wharf, Quincy Point.

At the annual parish meeting of the Christian Union Church, Monday evening, H. M. Federhen was chosen moderator and the following business was transacted:—

Voted. To engage Rev. George W. Coon as pastor.

Voted. To raise twelve hundred dollars for parochial purposes.

Officers for the ensuing year:—Rev. Collector and Treasurer.—J. L. Whitton.

Parish Committee.—T. H. Newcomb, A. Sampson and T. B. Thomas.

Soliciting Committee.—T. H. Newcomb, Alfred Sampson, T. B. Thomas, Miss M. Bosworth, Miss Anna Starbuck and Mrs. J. L. Whitton.

The lecture Wednesday evening by the Rev. Warren H. Cudworth, drew a large audience as was predicted in your issue of last week. Though not a lecture such as temperance speakers usually give, still the points made by the gentleman were plain and simple, and the comments of the audience were very favorable to the lecturer. Immediately after the lecture Mr. John Federhen, 3d, invited the officers of the Quincy Point Temperance Association and a few others of his friends to his residence and after partaking of refreshments two hours were spent with conversation and games, and the company then went home, highly pleased with the evening's entertainment. The "highly interesting ceremonial" mentioned in the Boston Herald of Tuesday, did not take place, and we would advise the reporter of that estimable paper to take important Point items from the PATRIOT in the future.

Temple of Honor.

The annual fraternal visit of the several Temples of this district to Granite Temple, held at the latter place, March 15th, in Bent's Hall, and although the attendance was not as large as would be desired, owing to the unsettled state of the weather, yet the occasion was one of much pleasure and profit to all. The temples present were Fraternal Temple, by Bro. E. H. Clapp; Timonut, of Boston, by Bro. Gilson; Quincy St. John's Temple, by Bro. Abbott; Charlestown; Mechanics Temple, East Weymouth, by Bros. Thompson and Duggan.

Short addresses were made by all the representatives and visitors; also by many members of Granite Temple, and many words of cheer and encouragement were spoken.

Bro. Gilson delivered a special invitation to all present to visit Timonut Temple, 176 Tremont street, Boston.

Many members of the Order from various parts of the Union were expected to be in attendance. A large number of members of Granite Temple attended, and all were surprised to see so large a representation, 188 being present, and gave a strong evidence of the regard in which old Timonut is held by the whole Order throughout the land. The social and united with Timonut Temple to make the occasion pleasing to all.

Many earnest and eloquent speeches were made, interspersed with fine music and singing, and the address of the various social temples. An ample collection was provided, to which all present did ample justice. The exercises were continued until eleven o'clock.

The whole affair was one of real enjoyment, and showed the fraternal brotherly esteem that prevailed throughout the Order, and was a strong evidence that the Temple of Honor to today stands at the head of the list of all similar organizations, and is a model for emulation for the benefit of mankind, and with its present system of beneficence and endowment, it is destined to accomplish a great and glorious work, and of indelible value to the world.

Granite Temple of this place, is one of the most flourishing and successful Temples of the State, and has been a powerful agency for good in this community.

Determined to have Hunt avenue widened. Another petition has been sent to the selectmen, and the selectmen, which board will again, during the coming week, view the above premises.

An old lady, wife of Mr. John Burns, fell on the stone step of the Church of the Sacred Heart, while returning from the service held here if they will, without being aided, and badly fractured her right arm.

The masquerade ball given under the auspices of Delphi Lodge, K. of P., at the Town Hall, last Friday night, was very fully attended, and there being nearly 700 dancers, and spectators present. A grand good time was had, and the only interruption was the daylight in the morning.

Mr. A. W. Clapp has recently purchased the carpenter's shop, belonging to Mrs. S. Foye and removed the same to a lot on Foye's "avenue," to be converted into a point shop for Mr. W. T. Bunney, a former "house" painter of this place. As the painting season is now fast approaching, people living in this ward (No. 3), will not have much trouble in selecting a good workman as there are now ten persons that carry on the business, while in the past there are informed there are only two.

Mr. B. F. M. Aldington, who now is upward of 90 years of age, remains his poetical faculties remarkably well. (His memory also seems nearly as good, as he says) as it was 80 years ago. His physical health the past four years has been remarkably good, and he is now a very hale and hearty man. He is now a very hale and hearty man. He is now a very hale and hearty man.

The 23d, and last but one, of the rehearsals by the Singing Society was given at Clapp's Hall last Sunday evening, with a very large audience in attendance. The 23d, and last this season, will be given Sunday evening, April 19th, when Mr. O. H. Allen in the "Seasons," with "sow the grain," and Mr. J. F. Porter in "Walburgis Night," will "pile the straw together" with a humorous and surprise all ordinary priests and farmers.

Mr. R. T. King is here again with an article which strongly and nicely mends all broken crockery and glassware; he has also Dr. John J. A. DeLano's liniment, which he says cures all kinds of rheumatism.

Braintree.

On Tuesday evening the Braintree Lodge, Knights of the Maccabees, celebrated their first anniversary with a very fine supper, in G. A. R. hall. A large number of the order with many invited guests were present, and after partaking of a most excellent supper, the things in a most knightly manner, called to order by Dictator Perry, who made a few appropriate remarks, and then introduced toast-master Hobart.

Mr. H. called for a song from the Perkins Quartette, which was sung and highly applauded. The toastmaster then introduced a few more plain explanations of the objects and working of the order. Grand Dictator Gregg was next introduced. His experience with the order was listened to with interest. The Perkins Quartette gave the friends one of their fine songs, and toast-master H. read the following sentences:—

Our Visiting Brethren.—Brother C. F. Quincy was the respondent. He spoke of the fraternal and insurance principles of the order. Brother Albert Kelley of Rockland, followed with some interesting remarks. The G. A. R. was responded to by Messrs. G. D. Willis and Henry Monk. The last song was sung by the Perkins Quartette, which received due applause.

The Masonic Fraternity received a response from Mr. S. A. Bates.

The G. O. F. M. was responded to by Mr. A. Kane.

The Pres. called up McEwan of the Braintree Observer, and Sproul of the Boston Herald to respond.

The Ladies. The Ladies were responded to by Mr. George Kelley of Rockland. The Quartette then sang a song.

The Clergy of Braintree.—Rev. Fiske Brewster was the respondent.

The Manufacturing Interests of Braintree was responded to by A. C. Driskill.

Our Common Schools was responded to by Mr. Record, one of our teachers. He spoke of the progress of the schools, and proposed by Mr. D. G. Brooks who was followed, and he proposed to have his answers ready when all present should become members of the order.

The whole affair was very enjoyable, and it only needed the presence of the ladies to make it more so. Efforts are being made to make a lodge of Knights and Ladies of Honor, and thus make the organization a family interest. D.

Quincy Reform Club.

At a regular meeting of the Quincy Reform Club, held at their rooms, on Saturday last, the following resolutions, offered by Henry H. Faxon, Esq., were adopted with but one dissenting vote:

We, the undersigned, do hereby propose to abstain from buying, selling, or using as a beverage all alcoholic or malt liquors, wine and cider included, and to do all in our power to prevent the nomination and election of officials who favor, under any form of law, the sale and use of intoxicating liquors for medicinal, mechanical and chemical purposes.

The argument in favor of this form of pledge was that the interest of the club would be much better subserved by not having members who pretended to be in sympathy with temperance, and who upon election days deliberately vote for the polls and for rum officials. A few years ago the Quincy Reform Club was one of the strongest in the State, but there were many members at that time who were very much afraid of the political side of the question.

Such members, after doing all the mischief they could, many not paying their dues, very nearly succeeded in breaking up the organization. Its classes have now found their level by drinking quinine, instead of behind the screens as they were wont to do when belonging to the club, and quite a number have engaged in the business of rum-selling.

Having got rid of this incubus of fraud, the institution is taking a new lease of life. Heavy duties cannot be in the past have nearly all been paid, and prosperity appears to be dawning upon its future.

Having got rid of this incubus of fraud, the institution is taking a new lease of life. Heavy duties cannot be in the past have nearly all been paid, and prosperity appears to be dawning upon its future.

Such members, after doing all the mischief they could, many not paying their dues, very nearly succeeded in breaking up the organization. Its classes have now found their level by drinking quinine, instead of behind the screens as they were wont to do when belonging to the club, and quite a number have engaged in the business of rum-selling.

Thursday was Fast, and although the day was pleasant the wind was blustering and cold. The programme for the day's enjoyment was varied and pleasing.

Services were held at the Congregational and Christ Churches in the forenoon, and an adjourned parish meeting at the Universalist Church in the afternoon.

The Tiger boys brought their engine out in the morning and played loud steam in the squares. The steam pump was also worked, and, as usual, gave perfect satisfaction.

Most of the stores were open in the forenoon.

The greatest attraction of the day was the foot race around the Stone Temple. It drew a large crowd and was well contested. The boys' three-mile race had seven entries, the first prize was won by Master Maguire of Braintree. The seven-mile race was also well contested. The first prize was won by Mr. Wall of Braintree, and the second by Mr. Langford of the same place.

Some fifteen or twenty young men indulged in a horseback ride through Weymouth and Hingham to Duxbury Landing. Horse plasters were in demand yesterday.

A Grand Concert.

In calling the attention of our readers to the notice of the concert for the benefit of Mr. George T. Elliot, we present to their notice an array of talent such as it is rarely our pleasure to announce.

Mrs. F. P. Whitney has been one of the soloists of the Handel and Haydn Society at Music Hall during the past winter, which should sufficiently recommend her to all lovers of good music.

Miss King is so well known here that there is no need to say anything in regard to her. Her singing as Queen Esther and Naomi bespeak more for her than anything we can say.

Mr. S. A. Battison is the same who personated Haman in the Cantata of Esther, and we feel certain that no one will feel disappointed in hearing him.

Mr. Ryder, who is an accompanist and soloist, is excelled by few if any will be present, and will not only play the accompaniment, but will also play several solos during the evening.

The Ruth choruses, under the direction of Mr. A. D. Albee, will render several part songs and choruses.

In addition to these are other attractions, which combined, makes up one of the best programmes which we have announced for a long time, and we think that all who shall take the trouble to attend will be amply repaid for so doing. We will publish the programme in full in our next week's issue.

Quincy Yacht Club.

The annual meeting of this club was held on Saturday evening last. Commodore Keith presiding. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Commodore, John Quincy Adams.
First Vice, A. J. Clark.
Second Vice, Joshua Binney.
Secretary and Treasurer, Geo. W. Morton.

Regatta Committee, — The Commodore, Jos. T. Fenneman, E. R. Souther, Geo. W. Morton and A. F. Bass.

It was voted that all expenditures of money above $10, must be authorized by the Commodore, Vice-commodore and Secretary hereafter; that the regatta committee be requested to hold a portion of the next season's races off Quincy Point; that the minimum limit for a yacht's length shall be 15 feet, and that all yachts of 30 feet and above in length be considered a special class, that all yachts be allowed to carry gaff sails in races.

The club will be in a better condition this year than ever before, and the following are among the additions to the list which will be made:

W. F. Maybury is building a cat-rig for William Amory and one for Mr. Cunningham of Milton.

The Foma has been sold to William Amory of Duxbury.

Henry H. Faxon is having a cat-rig built for his son, Henry M., by Mr. Andrew B. Lebel.

Peter B. Turner is building an 18-foot cat boat called the Buttercup.

Charles F. Adams, Jr., has bought the yacht Wail from Clark and King, of Duxbury, and the latter have bought the famous New York boat Nubias.

Mr. J. Kiley is having the Marguilla altered and refitted, and several other changes are to be made.

The Admiring Gold Medal.

Notwithstanding the somewhat stormy state of the weather on Saturday morning last, a fair-sized audience assembled in the Town Hall to witness the exercises in Reading and Declamation by the pupils of Adams Academy for the Adams Gold Medal.

After a piano duet by Thomas Osborne and William Westfield, Prof. William Everett, in a few well chosen remarks, welcomed the audience. He stated that the "gold medal" was given by Mr. John Quincy Adams, and was for the best reading and declamation combined, and that in addition, the head-master would award two prizes; one for the best reading, and the other for the best speaking.

The judges were Hon. C. T. Bradley, of Providence; Hon. Thomas Russell, of Boston; Prof. C. F. Dunbar, of Harvard College; Col. F. W. Parker, and A. J. C. Soule, Esq., of Boston.

At the conclusion of the exercises the judges retired to the Selectmen's room to compare notes. After a brief interval, Mr. Russell awarded the prizes as follows:

Adams "gold medal" to Arthur Gilbert Morton, of Boston.

The prize for reading was given to William W. L. Mason, of Quincy.

For speaking, Frederick B. Lake, of San Francisco, received the prize.

A GRATITUDE. At the beautiful display of flowers and vegetables at the Agricultural Hall, Boston, on Saturday last, Mrs. Bryant N. Adams of this town, received a gratuity for the finest show of hot-house and cold-house lettuce and similar vegetables.

DECEASED. Mr. Joseph S. Beale, a highly respected gentleman residing on Adams street, died on Saturday last. He was a kind husband and father, and a devoted religious man.

Brief Locals.

Lost a gold ring.

Robert-red-bird sings merrily morning and evening.

Joseph W. Lombard had a fine sale of real estate on Thursday last, at Arlington.

The delinquent taxpayers of Quincy should read the Collector's sale in today's issue.

Flour is dropping in price, as will be seen by the Boston Branch Store advertisement.

We invite the readers' attention to the auction advertisements. Good bargains can be secured.

Mr. Charles Derry has sold his wharf, known as Brackett's wharf, to Frederick & Field, for $250.

Mr. N. B. Fernald advertises to collect bills. We presume no one doing business in Quincy ever has any.

Probate Court will be held in Quincy next Wednesday, instead of last Wednesday as previously announced.

Our townsman, Mr. John C. Randall has returned from a pleasant trip to Florida, which he took for his health.

The weather this week has been quite changeable, and rather cold withal. It has made two or three nights during the week.

Joseph W. Lombard has quite a list of auction sales, to which he invites the attention of the readers. Don't fail to read them.

The annual meeting for the election of trustees of the Quincy Savings Bank will be held at the Banking rooms on Tuesday next.

The Eureka Company of East Weymouth has extended an invitation to the Engineers and Hook and Ladder Co. of Quincy to visit them on Tuesday evening next.

Read the annual statement of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company in our columns. This is one of the most successful mutual companies in this state.

The Young Men's Republican Club held a meeting last Monday evening. An exciting debate was expected on the Presidential question, and Mr. King's resolution will be acted upon at that time.

Messrs. Eaton Brothers were housing nice ice the first of the week. Rather late in the season to be gathering in a crop, but better late than not at all. It was shipped from northern rivers.

Rev. R. W. Harlow, late pastor of the West Quincy M. E. Church, has been settled at Highlandville, Neshaminy, Pa. Mr. Harlow carries with him the best wishes of his many friends in this place.

The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of William Ellery Channing was appropriately noticed at the Stone Temple last Sunday morning, by a discourse from Rev. Mr. Wilson, in which he briefly sketched the life and character of that good man.

NEW ORGANIZATION. The granite quarry in East Milton, recently owned by Messrs. Buntin & Halewood, has been sold to Boston parties, who have organized into a joint-stock company with sufficient capital for conducting a large business. The company will retain the name of the old firm, O. T. Rogers Granite Company.

The following are the names of the gentlemen comprising the firm: — President, — E. B. Andrews, Treasurer, — W. H. H. Andrews, Board of Directors, — E. B. Andrews, W. H. H. Andrews, A. A. Andrews, A. G. Davis, and Wellington Smith.

West Quincy Sabbath School.

The Sabbath School connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church of West Quincy during the past year has been very successful under Mr. Mayo P. Fuller as Superintendent. Four concerts have been held, which have been model ones in all respects. Some topics have been selected from the Bible, and the recitations, (mostly selections from the Scriptures), together with singing and remarks made, all had reference to that topic. The concert on last Sabbath evening was very interesting. The subject was the "Christian's inheritance," and it was also the theme of the Pastor's morning discourse. The Bible should be the text book of the Church and Sunday school, and its truths brought to bear upon the hearts and lives of the people. Notwithstanding the financial depression in the place the past year, the school has averaged 30 to 34 per cent. during the year. They have reorganized with M. P. Fuller as Superintendent; Thomas Craig, Assistant Superintendent; Harry S. Lane, Chorister and Secretary; F. Wesley Fuller, Librarian; Charles H. Gilmes, Assistant Librarian; and W. P. Nutting, Treasurer.

For the Patriot.

A Bird Concert.

The Children's Society of Braintree, known as the Happy Workers, connected with the Woman's Board of Missions, gave one of their always interesting entertainments on Friday evening of last week. This time, the affair planned by the directors, Mrs. Franklin Shaw, took the form of a Bird Concert. The hall was tastefully trimmed with evergreen, and pot plants, and further decorated with cages of living birds, whose notes mingled with the glad music of the children's voices. — Here and there a stuffed bird stood upon brackets, and peeped from tree branches; prominent among which was a large white owl, who seemed to gaze in round-eyed wonder upon the happy scene.

The pieces spoken and sung, were all chosen in reference to the subject of birds, and were very nicely rendered. — The Whippoorwill, The Bird's Prayer, Grace and the Blue Bird, Sweetie, Sweet Sweet, The Cat and the Sparrow, The Bird's Command, and the Oriole, were among the finest pieces; the bird calls being very naturally given. — There were several fine duets played, Happy Hens, and the Whippoorwill, and the two Morrisons sisters sang Chickadee, receiving a hearty cheer.

Mrs. L. P. Holbrook read the Jackdaw of Rheims, and Bobolink, in a most effective manner; F. S. Chapin and sister gave a piano selection and flute accompaniment.

The whole affair was a most decided success, giving great delight to the large audience in attendance, and realizing a net gain of about $35 to the treasury of the little flock.

For the Patriot.

Golden Wedding.

The neighbors and friends of Mr. Gershon Clements assembled at their residence on Friday evening, to congratulate them upon the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Rev. Mr. Coon offered prayer and addressed the couple; afterwards introduced them to the company for congratulations.

The evening passed very pleasantly with singing and social conversation. — Song by Mrs. Coon, "When you and I were young, Maggie," was greeted with applause. The tables and other dainties, and refreshments were served by them five years ago, and still preserved and in good condition. Tokens of friendship in the form of gold pieces and flowers were presented. After partaking of refreshments, the company began to disperse, wishing the good couple might live to see their diamond wedding.

Quincy Point Items.

At the meeting of the Quincy Yacht Club Saturday evening we were pleased to see a vote was passed requesting the "Regatta Committee to have a portion of the races of the Club off Quincy Point," for certainly there is no more available place in the river from which to start the boats. The vote passed expelling P. Grant, Jr., from the Club was a needless insult for though Mr. Grant acknowledges receiving two bills from the treasurer for his dues he says he is not paying them, and the matter is forgotten. We don't believe the Club will profit by such any hasty legislation.

Monday evening Mr. Frank Smith was surprised by his numerous friends, who visited his residence to make a farewell call upon him previous to his departure for California. The party came in fancy costumes, some of which were very fine and others quite novel. The usual variety of "queens, princes, clowns, negroes, &c.," composed a merry pleasing to behold. The festive association of the Club and the party tendered Mr. Smith their best wishes for his future prosperity.

The Culture Engine Company held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening and played their machine which was in good order. The company voted to ask permission of the Engineers to send their engine to Hummer & Co., for alterations. As the company propose to pay the costs themselves and make the engine better than it now is there could be no objection and the Engineers at their meeting Tuesday evening granted the desire of the company, provided a bond is given to secure the town. The company also passed a vote asking the Selectmen to reappoint Capt. Joseph W. Hayden as Engineer. He is a good man for the position and his reappointment will be satisfactory to the citizens of the Point and Neck.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society met Wednesday afternoon and devoted some two hours to sewing for the poor.

The ground being free from frost a new fence should be erected around the Washington school lot. It looks badly now.

We understand Mr. Fernald gave a surprise party at a large room at the Point one day last week.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Quincy Point Temperance Association, which was held at Baptist Hall, every seat being filled. A very entertaining programme was well carried out. The interest Mr. W. T. Barry, the new chairman of the literary and musical committee takes in arranging to please the audiences, is building for the association, and the success of the "Old Folks' Concert" is heard of. The profits of which go to the association; will give the particulars at a later day.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society met next Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. H. M. Federhen's, the Temperance Association in the evening at Baptist Hall and the Aid Society sociable will occur Thursday evening at Mrs. Elihu Spear's residence at the Neck.

Fast day passed off quietly. There were quite a number of pleasant family gatherings, but nothing of special importance transpired, except a shooting match at ten glass balls. The score was Capt. Edward Park and nine and Mr. Frank House five.

Another masquerade party is in view.

WILLARD SCHOOLS. There has been quite a stir at the Willard School this week. Mr. A. H. K. Blood, principal of the Grammar School for the past three months, was discharged by Col. Parker, which created quite an indignation among the parents, and Mr. Miller, the School Committee of that district locked the door. On Monday and Tuesday there was no school. On Tuesday evening the School Committee had a meeting and a majority of the Committee decided that Mr. Beeching, the newly appointed teacher should have charge of the school; and on Wednesday morning the school rooms were re-opened to the scholars.

Notice the announcement of Child's & Lane in today's paper. The well-known reputation of this firm is a sufficient guarantee that they will perform all they promise.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTIONS. The organist of St. John's Church, Mr. R. H. S. Watson, will give instructions on the piano or organ. He has been a student of the Royal Academy of Music, in London, and private pupil of several teachers of the old country. He is to be a resident of the town, and any one desirous of securing a competent teacher should read his advertisement.

DANGEROUS DOGS. On Monday last a little lot of two and half year of age, belonging to Mr. Peter McCully, was bitten very badly by an ugly looking Newfoundland dog, which without any provocation, rushed into the yard where the little fellow was playing and bit and tore him on the cheek and ear in a fearful manner. The dog had a white breast and fore paws and straight hair and was seen by many of our citizens. He seemed to be very ugly, biting and knocking over several dogs which came in his way.

A little daughter of Mr. Horace Felts, was also badly bitten by a dog on the same day. She was playing around her father's blacksmith shop, on Quincy avenue and a dog belonging to Mr. Glennon was lying in the door way. The little girl ran into the shop and jumped over the animal when he sprang up, knocked her down and bit her in several places on the face. Mr. Felts had the dog secured and shot him.

THE GLOBE. The success of the Republic Party in "Revels" has been so pronounced, that manager Stetson yielded to the public and popular demand in continuing it during the present week. The "standing room only" sign has been displayed on many one occasion, and this favorite company of artists have never been received with greater favor. Revels will receive its last presentation tomorrow. On Monday evening the last week of the engagement will begin, and will introduce the "Horror" for the first time this season. Notwithstanding its somewhat startling title, the piece is full of fun and merriment, and is one of the merriest extravaganzas presented by the company. The brilliant costumes and elegant scenic embellishments, together with the flow of delightful music, which which it abounds, will make it a complete success. The stay of the company is limited to next week, and the necessity of an early purchase of seats is therefore obvious.

Miss Nelson follows the Surprise band, giving her grand display of her personations. Nearly all the seats are now sold, and the prospect is that the theatre will not contain all who desire to hear the lady.

THE MUSEUM. A succession of interested audiences during the present week, has testified to the excellence and attractive qualities of the performance furnished by the presentation of "Robinsonade" and "The Lark." The latter is one of the jolliest comic operas ever presented in Boston, and the bewitching music is full of interest throughout. It will be withdrawn this week, and on Monday next will be presented Jessop's new comedy drama, "A Gentleman from Nevada," with J. B. Polk as Christopher Columbus and Gail, supported by the powerful chorus. The play will be presented for the first time on any stage, and great interest is excited in manager Field's enterprise. The play is pronounced very interesting and most valuable.

THE GAITEY. It would be very difficult to crowd more unadmitted persons into three hours than the large audiences have enjoyed who have visited manager Wentworth's theatre during the past two weeks. The drawing capacity of "Fun on the Bristol," seems to be practically unlimited, and the theatre is sold for several weeks to come, each time with a full complement of passengers. Only three more trips will be made from Boston this season, and I would advise our friends to secure their tickets, or they may find themselves left behind. The incessant building of irresistible fun, the smoothness of the singing, and the dramatic adequacy of nearly all the company leave nothing wanting for a complete and successful entertainment.

Minnie Palmer, with her Boarding School Party will come next week, and as she is a great favorite here, and brings an excellent company, who give a delightful performance, a succession of crowded houses may be reasonably expected.

HOOLEY'S THEATRE. The Megatherians can be seen only this week, and the excellent bill presented only to draw full houses. Next week the California Comedy Company will present the realistic drama, "Among the Mormons," depicting with vividness life in Salt Lake City, and introducing Miss Anna Adams of that city, and a large company in the cast. It is said to be an exciting drama, and the advance sale of seats already ensures good audiences.

"Rip Van Winkle" will be produced at the Boston Theatre, to full houses, next week.

At the Park, the Union Square Company will begin an extended season, with "The Banker's Daughter."

A FINE COLT. Mr. James Edwards of this town has a colt which is worthy of notice. It was a year old last Saturday and weighed on Everett's scales 730 pounds. We doubt if another can be found in the State that can beat it in weight of the same age. She is a beauty, fifteen hands high, and a descendant of J. R. Graham's noted trotting stallion, Mambrino Dudley.

ATLANTIC MISSION. At the annual election of officers, last Sunday, John Ramsdell was elected clerk for the next year; E. W. Ellis, secretary and collector, and T. Gurney, treasurer.

At a previous meeting it was a unanimous vote to give Rev. J. W. Richardson of Cambridgeport, a call for the coming year, which he accepts, and is to begin his labors to-morrow.

Mr. Richardson moves into this place in a few days, and in so doing becomes the first minister ever settled in Atlantic. He is a fluent speaker, with remarkable imagination, and his labors expect a prosperous year.

Mr. Rice, having closed his three years, has gone to Salem, Mass.

D. B. STETSON, Washington St., Quincy.

REMOVAL. Rev. R. W. Harlow closed his two years' service at the Methodist Episcopal Church in West
Quincy last Sabbath; he has been appointed to the Church in Highlandville in the town of Needham, for the coming year. These two years have been the hardest, financially, the Church here ever knew; yet a generous and noble impulse has actuated the faithful few, (for the Church is small, only forty-members), and they have responded as they were able; sustained also by the congregation were Mr. Charles Goucher as chorister, and Mr. Charles F. Cole as organist, who together with the choir have rendered efficient service.
Mr. Mayo P. Fuller, Superintendent of the Sunday School, and the teachers also deserve honorable mention.

The Pastor, during the year just closed, has made 723 pastoral calls; offered prayer 108 times, with 64 different families. He was invited by the Quarterly Conference to remain another year, but taking all things into consideration, he deemed it would be better both for him and the Church to have a change.

Previous to his leaving he was presented with a purse of money by the ladies and numerous articles useful in the family.

The United States Senate, on Tuesday, had under consideration a bill which gives non-commissioned officers of the army who have served thirty-five years, three-quarters pay as a pension for the rest of their lives.

Carroll D. Wright, chief of the bureau of labor statistics, says that paid agents of English manufacturers are at this moment at work in New England, for the sole purpose of inciting strikes among our operatives.

Prof. Vennor of Montreal says
"May will be a cold, wet and disastrous month at and around Boston.
Similar weather will continue up to the 10th of June; after this look for fine, dry weather for the rest of the year—
in fact, too dry weather."

A VALUABLE DOLLAR. The 1804 dollar, in fine condition, is said to be valued at $1000 by collectors. There are 12 of this date known—2 in the United States mint, 2 in New York, 3 in Boston, 1 in Salem, Mass., 2 in Philadelphia, 1 in Cincinnati, and 1 in Liverpool, England.

An attempt was made on Sunday night to burn a barn, situated at the head of Litchfield wharf, by setting fire to a pile of pickets which were in the shed attached. It was discovered before it had made much headway and extinguished without giving an alarm.

The family of the Chinese professor in Cambridge, Mass., occupy the attic of the house, while the servants sleep down stairs. According to the Chinese notions of rank, the master and mistress of the house must occupy sleeping-rooms below the servants.

For the Patriot.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.
Forness's motion, of this city, has been granted by the Grant people by declaring that if the Pennsylvania delegation to the Chicago Convention votes as a unit at all, it will be for Blaine, and that if it divides, third vote will be cast for Blaine on the first ballot.

Forness is pretty good authority on Pennsylvania politics, and he says a revolution is going on there which will take the control out of Cameron's hands if the Senator persists in trying to boom for Grant.

The Presidential contest has got so exciting that Senator Edmunds of Vermont, has got the fever, and they say is really anxious in the anticipation that the President may strike him. But there is one thing inconsistent about his candidate. He is run by men who are opposed to Grant, and yet he helping the third term boom all he can previous to his own nomination as a candidate.

Several Democratic senators have declared that they will not vote to unseat Kellogg of Louisiana, at present, which accounts for the delay in pushing that case to an issue in the Senate.
Senator Howe wishes to have the case considered, but dares not attempt it for the conservative Democrats will vote against him even if the caucus adopts his programme, so it is said.

It is probable that the Democrats, both in Senate and House, will try hard to conduct affairs for the remainder of the session as not to make political capital for their opponents.

The Republicans propose to discuss the prohibitory clause relative to the troops at the close of the session, and the Democratic majority is so narrow that they will probably have their way. What will be the upshot of it nobody can tell.

It is very significant that Garfield has gone off just as this discussion begins, and some say that he goes to dodge the question, not agreeing with his fellow Republicans on it.

The report that Garfield goes to Ohio to look after Sherman's interest, is more probable, however, in view of the fact that so far Blaine appears to be carrying away the honors in John Sherman's own State.

The Ichneumon Canal as a subject before Congress, has suddenly disappeared with all those who are interested in it. It being a political year, perhaps all hope of action is abandoned.
Captain Eades' plan for a ship railway is very favorably considered by members, and it may be that some action will be taken towards promoting that enterprise.

A Sudden Death.

On Monday last one of our best citizens, Edmund B. Taylor, Esq., was taken suddenly from our midst. He was engaged in playing nearly up to the hour of his death, and the shock was a severe one to his family and the community generally. While holding the piano in the forenoon he spoke of not feeling well, and put his hand to his breast; but went to dinner, and sat quite heartily. After the usual morning, he went once more to the field, nearly in front of his residence, and continued his favorite pursuit; occasionally stopping and mentioning that he had a severe pain in his breast. Finally about half past three he was induced to leave the piano and go to his residence. On reaching the house he told his wife that he had a sharp pain in his breast. She immediately gave him something warm and sent for Dr. Sargent, a near neighbor, who immediately responded. Before Dr. Sargent arrived Mr. Taylor had improved somewhat, and the physician thought it a case of indigestion, nothing serious, and after ordering some medicine, retired. Mr. Taylor not getting relieved was induced to go to bed. Soon after retiring he commenced growing worse and a messenger was sent for the Doctor the second time, but before he arrived life had fled. In the short space of about one hour and a half from the time he left the field, he was no more on earth. His funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, the Rev. D. M. Wilson officiating. Although a heavy rain prevailed at the time, his residence was crowded with relatives and friends. Mr. Taylor was a man greatly beloved and respected. A kind neighbor, an obliging friend, and an affectionate husband and father. His loss will not only be almost insupportable to his household, but greatly felt by the whole community. For many years he has filled positions of honor and trust in town. For nine years he was Selectman, Assessor, Surveyor of Highways and Overseer of the Poor. He also served as an Engineer of the Fire Department for four years, and represented the town in the Legislature during the session of 1876.

Cantata of Ruth.

Our readers will notice in another column, the announcement of the Cantata of Ruth to be given on the 30th and 27th of this month, by the Ruth Chorus. It will be remembered that this cantata was given about a year ago with great success. With a few exceptions, the chorus will be assisted by the same talent as last year. Miss Parker and Miss King taking the parts of Ruth and Naomi respectively, and Mr. Elliot and Mr. Buffinton, Boaz and First Rejoice.

The part of Miss, which last year was taken by Mrs. Kate Davis, will be sustained this time by Mrs. Ida Ames, of Boston.

The argument of the Cantata is as follows:—

A severe famine prevails in Bethlehem-Judah. A messenger brings the tidings of plenty in Moab, and beseeches the people to cry to Jehovah for help in their trouble. Elimelech and his family, Naomi and her two sons, flee to Moab. The two sons there marry Ruth and Orpah. During a period of ten years the Naomi, Ruth and Orpah are left in their foreign land. They beseech their affliction, and Naomi resolves to return to her home, where plenty is now restored. Orpah is persuaded to go to her mother-in-law, but Ruth "claves unto her mother-in-law," and returns with her to Bethlehem. The inhabitants greet them with surprise, when Naomi tells of her sorrows. Ruth soon goes to the barley fields to glean. Boaz, a man of wealth and power, finds her in his fields, and becomes enamored of her. At nightfall she falls asleep among the sheaves, and Boaz goes to her a Shew-bread. The next day an Israelite woman prophesies better things for her, and she waits to see the result. According to the Oriental custom, the property is sold, and soon after Boaz and Ruth are married. Boaz celebrates by "making merry," and the scene closes with praise to God for His mercies.

The Exhibition.

On Wednesday evening last the juvenile dancing school, which has been under the care of Prof. Ross B. Walker, gave their exhibition at the Town Hall, and, like all of the other exhibitions given by Mr. Walker's dancing schools, was a very successful affair both to the teacher and the pupils. The Sailer's Hornpipe and the Highland Fling were very finely danced by one of Mr. Walker's young scholars, Miss Rosie Byrne, and were declared by many to be among the best of the exhibition. After the exhibition a social dance was enjoyed by the older ones, which lasted until midnight. Mr. Walker said he should not come to Quincy again for two years, but we don't think he will neglect us so long.

First.

There was a slight fire at the residence of Mr. William D. Merrill, on Lincoln street, Wollaston, on Wednesday last. A grandson of Mr. Merrill, about three years of age, was put to bed, and was supposed to be asleep, when about half past twelve o'clock, as the family were at dinner, the little chap came from the sleeping room with a small table in one hand and a shoe in the other, and started to return. He acted a little singular, and being questioned the boy said he was going to get his shoe before it was burnt. The family started and with considerable exertion succeeded in extinguishing the flames. It is supposed the child was at the bed with some matches that were not stood near the bed. Loss about $50; $25 on house, and the balance on furniture. The house was insured.

Personal.

Mr. R. H. L. Watson, of England, who has just arrived in Boston, is an organist of no ordinary ability, if we may judge by the testimonies which are in his possession. He was fortunate in securing a position within a week after his arrival, as organist of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, at Quincy. We are glad that he has thus early secured a foothold, and trust that his organ playing will be transferred to one of our metropolitan churches.—May Folio.

District Court.

The following cases have been disposed of since our last issue: George P. Hollis, of South Braintree, vs. William Howard, of Quincy, et al. Judgment for plaintiff, $100. Under the recent law of the General Court, the County has to pay the costs, amounting to $12.00. James D. Butler, of Weymouth, vs. selling liquors. Discharged.

Brief Locals.

Farmers are very busy.

This has been a growing week.

A valuable young horse is offered for sale.

A girl is desirous of securing a situation.

The busy season for the ice men has commenced.

Grass is looking better than last year, at this time.

An owner is wanted for a little black-and-white dog.

Street sprinkling was much appreciated on Monday and Tuesday.

Three houses at Atlantic are to be sold at auction on Thursday next.

A distinguished visitor from Chili has been into our schools this week.

The apple trees are full of blossoms—an immense crop of fruit is predicted.

Joseph W. Lombard sold a large estate in East Milton, on Monday last for $11,000.

Our worthy and genial Postmaster leaves Quincy to-night on a trip to Washington.

The first regatta of the Quincy Yacht Club takes place this afternoon off Quincy Point.

P. A. Wales & Sons will be pleased to receive orders for their excellent log pumps.

Most of the schools were closed yesterday to allow the teachers to attend the convention.

Mr. R. V. Smith, the genial agent for Dunbar & Co., was at the Robertson House this week.

Edward V. Trask killed on Monday, a large rattlesnake with ten rattles, in the woods in West Quincy.

We don't know that the town is growing particularly numerous, but it is noticed many takes about just at this time.

Three slaters have been busily engaged this week in repairing the roof of the Evangelical Congregational Church.

Miss Flora E. Vining has succeeded in raising a subscription sufficient to pay for sprinkling Washington street, as far as her residence.

We learn that Mr. James W. Pierce has taken the stove and hardware business carried on in Pierce's block, by his brother, Charles, and will continue the business at the old stand.

The Adams Academy base ball nine have received a challenge to play three games of base ball, in Quincy, from the Harvard Freshmen nine, and we learn that the games are soon to be played.

Three men one day recently, who were snare hunting in the woods in the west part of the town, killed seven rattlesnakes, two copperheads and one black snake. Pretty good day's work.

Mr. Loring A. French has been selected as manager of the Willow House, Houghs Neck, for the coming season. He has had much experience in hotel business, and is well calculated to please his guests. He was at Revere beach last season, with Mr. Meserve.

The people connected with the M. E. Church, of West Quincy, hold an exhibition on Friday evening next, in the audience room of their church. The programme consists of singing, select readings and recitations. A good time may be expected. The proceeds will be devoted to the fund for painting the church.

RUNAWAY. As Mr. E. V. Trask, was carting wood his horse became frightened and ran away, completely destroying the harness and badly damaging the wagon.

The Old Colony, it is understood, have very wisely concluded to reduce the fare to the Vineyard this season. It will be $2.50 from Boston, against $3.00 last year.

ACCIDENT. Edward S. Brown, son of Mr. H. B. Brown of this town, met with an accident at Providence on Monday last. He got caught between the engine and car while shuffling, and was badly injured. He was sent home on a bed, and we are pleased to say he is rapidly recovering. Fortunately no bones were broken.

The land and harbor commissioners of Boston will at once advertise for proposals for filling about 200,000 yards of the South Boston flats, at a point immediately adjoining the fifty acre point. This will be equivalent to a surface measurement of 15 or 16 acres, as some filling has already been done on the section.

PRIVATE SALES. Mr. Benjamin C. Handrick has sold to his brother, Franklin, land on Elm place, Quincy, adjoining estates of Messrs. Joseph G. Brack, Henry Chubbuck and others, for $4575.

Mr. George Wales has sold to Mr. A. P. Wales, about three acres of land in Braintree, adjoining estates of Messrs. George Wales, W. H. Howard and others, for $1000.

HULL. The town of Hull over their thanks to Miss Flora E. Vining, daughter of Mr. Alexander Vining, of this town, for the extension of the number of months Hull is to have a daily mail. About three years ago this lady secured for that place a daily mail for four months during the year. During her recent visit to Washington with the Mass. Press Association she interviewed the Postmaster-General and had the time extended to six months. It will be remembered that Mr. and Miss Vining spent the summer months at the quiet seaside resort and have done much to advance the interests of the town. They go to Hull about the first of July.

ADVERTISEMENT. An exchange says:—It pays always to at least glance over the advertisements in this paper, as new offers are weekly made, of desirable goods for sale, auctions, wants, etc.; one of which, a handsome stallion, is valued at $2000, and the others at $1000 each.

Quincy Point Items.

Sunday morning and evening, Rev. Mr. Chubbuck preached two excellent sermons to large congregations in the Christian Union Church.

Monday evening, the Vulture engine company held its regular meeting, and received a visit from Chief Engineer Hall. Some of the leading citizens of this district are proposing to become honorary members of the company.

Wednesday evening, the Quincy Point Temperance Association held its regular meeting, and there was a large number present. Some of the members have noticed with sorrow the patronage bestowed upon the Pine Point House by residents of Quincy, and the subject was brought before the Association and discussed, and the Association voted to "instruct the President and Secretary to convey to the Selectmen of Weymouth, the names of any persons seen coming from the Pine Point Hotel, and whom the persons giving the information have good reason to suppose have procured liquor there."

Thursday evening, there was a rehearsal for the "Old Folks Concert" at the residence of Mr. Barry. Next Thursday evening Baptist Hall, has been engaged for a rehearsal of the full chorus and orchestra. Every member is requested to be present.

The Ladies' Aid Society gave a "social" at the residence of Mrs. Schuyler Penney, and quite a number were present, considering the state of the weather.

The owners of the real estate adjoining the Washington school land feel indignant at the action of the school committee with regard to the fences. Some one in authority caused the fences to be torn down and removed without the consent of the abutters, and now the committee refuse to erect new ones without the owners of the adjoining estates pay part of the cost. The sidewalk also remains in a disgraceful condition. We hope our member of the school board will insist on having his special charge properly cared for.

Between Five and Fifteen.

Mr. Ensign S. Fellows, who has been collecting the number of children between the ages of five and fifteen, concluded his labors on Tuesday. He will please accept our thanks for the following statistics:—

Maple Lodge.

Last Saturday evening a lodge of Knights and Ladies of Honor, was instituted in this town at Revere Hall, by Past Grand Protector, M. H. Fuller, of Boston, assisted by Grand Guide, Henry Damon, and Deputy Grand Chaplain, Mrs. H. E. Webster. After the lodge had been duly instituted the following ladies and gentlemen were installed officers for the ensuing term:—

Protector—Charles A. Foster.

Vice Protector—Mrs. Elizabeth F. Fernald.

Secretary—William W. Pennington.

Financial Secretary—Miss M. Lizzie Fernald.

Chaplain—Mrs. Mary E. Taber.

Guide—Samuel W. Spear.

Guardian—Miss Ella M. Tilton.

Sentinel—John P. Bigelow.

Past Protector—George T. DeFreese.

Medical Examiner—Dr. J. W. Small.

Representative to Grand Lodge—Geo. T. DeFreese.

Alternate—John P. Bigelow.

This Lodge starts under very favorable circumstances, having a membership of forty-four ladies and gentlemen, who were all present on this occasion. After the business meeting concluded the Lodge was closed, and the Knights and Ladies, with the Grand officers, and invited guest sat down to an excellent collation, which had been prepared for the occasion, and which was duly appreciated. After spending a short time in social conversation and singing, the company retired to their homes well pleased with their evening's entertainment.

Weymouth Items.

At the grand fair and sale given by the G. A. R. Post, No. 58, at the Town Hall last year, many articles remained unsold, among them a splendid silk dress. It was decided to close out these articles on the 5th and 6th insts., at Lincoln Hall. A full attendance was present on each evening, and the net proceeds, after paying all expenses, were $225. Ticket number 229 drew the silk dress. At the close it was ascertained that the committee had made a mistake by not placing the full number of tickets in the box, and the secretary ordered a re-drawing at Amazon Hall, last Monday evening, at which time the whole number of tickets, 250, were placed in the box. Ticket 143, held by Commander B. S. Lovell, was the lucky number.

The new steamer is not expected to arrive here the first of June, as on Wednesday, the 24th day, and the Saturday following, will be a gala day for the inhabitants. At 9 o'clock, A. shuddered at Ada's unwomanly remarks. By day Ada continued her complaints of the Hollyhocks. She was miserable herself and she certainly made everybody else so. While Dora was as busy as a bee, Ada moped herself almost sick.

The old phanton which Dora had driven in, the child was led the family, and, at her mother's suggestion, Dora ended a mild, fat dobbie of a neighboring farmer one day and invited Ada to drive.

There's lovely scenery along the valley road. It will make a little change for you, Ada. Besides, I've a bit of eyes to brighten you up."

"Allen Waters is coming home," said Dora, with a faintly mischievous smile.

"I had a few moments' thought," Ada arrayed herself in her prettiest driving costume, and entered the carriage.

"Drive past the Waters's estate, Dora. What a lot, lazy horse. There's no fun in it, you can't drive it to style."

"Here, now, see the Waters's place. It's all I expected it to be. There'd be some comfort in living if one could be mistress there. It's no better marriage than I ought to have made if papa had married you, you can't drive it to style, and an arrogant too of the head, Ada was driven past a hay-rigging driven by man in his shirt-sleeves.

He glanced at the young ladies with rank curiosity.

"How do you like Dora? Impudent fellow? How she stares! Country folks!" he sneered Ada.

"I bowed because he bowed to me."

"Poor Ada! Her mortification had just begun. That evening, with a silk at doffed from the handsome head, suitlessly arrayed, Mr. Allen Waters presented himself in the little parlor of the Holyholcks, and, introducing himself, begged leave to inquire if the lady he had reached home quite safe."

Ada apologized quite eagerly, and said to be sweet, but Mr. Waters seemed to have eyes only for Dora's ruminative face.

"I come to enquire again to the Holyholcks, and at last one day boldly declared himself Dora's lover."

"You have known me quite a little, though you don't know half my faults," murmured she.

"I don't care if I don't," he laughed.

"I love you and have loved you ever since I offered me that half dollar so charmingly, blushing and ashamed of the small sum. Why, you little darling, do you know your appealing dauntless face, from meeting a man who could have paid me a thousand dollars that day?"

"And you never got it?" cried Dora, ghastr.

"No; but that does not matter. I have your half dollar, and had rather have it."

Such an incorrigible fellow as that, of course, had his own way, and Dora became Mrs. Allen Waters. She loves her husband and is under a cloud, and he finds him a gentleman. And Ada is in the slacks.

modern to several industries. A foodware firm has recently put 100,000 berry boxes on the market. Some continue in favor, being pressed to the baskets for the New England trade in natives. These boxes cost about two and a half cents each at the factory, and are sold at five cents each with the berry. Every well-regarded grower has a stock of these boxes, which, instead of having been "returned," have been utilized in the kitchen department. The boxes are next used by the grape raisers and dealers in small fruits. They are then sold in two cases, and the work of replenishing considerable of an industry.

A few weeks hence the Norfolk boats will be bringing from 3000 to 5000 cases of strawberries per week. A few fruit dealers will be sure to provide it into the hands of the peddlers who make the streets of the city and the suburbs hideous with their bells of "Straw-berry-ies," two boxes of which they will sell for 10 cents. They have been selling at twenty-three cents lately, but as the season advances the fruit will grow lower in price. The quality of the fruit thus far has not been much to boast of, but it will improve as the season progresses. Outside of Massachusetts, our box strawberries came from New Jersey, Long Island and Connecticut. The recent splendid rains will hasten the ripening of the fruit which had stood in need of moisture, and thus, by driving at the season, threatened to render the crop partial failure in some localities.

 Time to put away Winter suits

“It” no matter how you deprecate the idea, and that f-o-o-g-n “fog” is tough to make anybody smile if the fog were not too painful.

☞ On a certain occasion, “Damon and Pygmalion” was being played at a theatre in Washington. The actor who was Damon was about to be led to execution. He was looking at the audience, examining his eyes in the effort to discern if a friend in the distance, and asking—“Is he coming?” A locomotive whistle sounded close by. “He’ll be here in the next five minutes,” said the stage, and in a moment the emotion was changed to laughter.

☞ One of the greatest evils known in the family circles is the disrespect so frequently shown between members, one to another, in speech, action and dress. It is the gruff and the vulgar, and the answer to a pleasant query, and to unpleasant consequences, and meets a cold, calculating style of address on either side, which sooner or later is adopted by the younger members. The respect and the respect which should dwell within is dispelled like dew before the morning sun.

☞ The fair sex in Germany is not to be trifled with. At a fancy dress ball given there recently by the subalterns of an infantry regiment, a lady noted for her originality and wit was brought by chance to the side of one of the chief military authorities of the place. Said she to the Colonel Z.—“My dear Colonel, what are you?” “Oh,” answered the colonel, who was evidently not in one of his happy moods, “I am nothing!” “What are you?” “I am just to nothing,” was the prompt rejoinder.

the page on which the lesson is written, and for the exercise, may be found; and for the reading of which, she has prepared the class, by developing each word contained in the lesson not previously within the vocabulary of each member of the class. The teacher, therefore, and the teacher names a pupil, who, in consequence, commences reading, and commences to read, until the teacher for some good reason, desires another to take his place. If a pupil hesitates in reading, the teacher names another pupil named, who commences where the previous one commenced.

If any pupil thinks that a word has been miscalled, or that the reading has not conveyed the thought intended by the author, he may step up and say, "I heard, and I think the teacher deems it advisable," and names the owner of one of the hands up," who tries his luck, but soon may rest assured that very soon the thought conveyed by the exercise will be understood by the class.

If the class cannot agree in regard to the thought the author intended to express, the utmost freedom is allowed the class, in discussing the matter among themselves. If they do not so readily agree, a free discussion is opened, and the subject is pursued for some future occasion; giving the pupils ample opportunity to gather from any source they may, such information as will furnish evidence to settle the point of difference.

"It's cool to-day," said a mother to her little son. "Yes, it's school days of the week," replied the embryonic parapsychist.

A Shocking Murder

Mr. William Garvin, son of Patrick Garvin of this town, met with an untimely death on Monday last, while riding on an excursion train in the morning. The following account of the sad affair we copy from the Philadelphia Evening News, of Tuesday:-

A more cowardly murder than that of William Garvin, who resides on Vine street, in this city, has not stained the criminal annals of New Jersey, since Armstrong met his death. Garvin was a young unmarried man, and a stone-cutter by occupation. A large excursion party of Germans had been down the river celebrating Whit Sunday and were returning by a train on the Camden and Amboy railroad, which stopped at Riverside, where Garvin and one or two companions got aboard. The addition to the party were quiet and peaceable, Garvin himself sitting apart and saying nothing. Some of the people in the excursion train were, however, very different, and others, obscene language and threats filled one of the cars wherein a lot of the lowest ruffians in Camden were sitting. Garvin, guests among a number of peaceable Germans. The roughs finally became quarrelsome, got fighting, drew black-jacks and turned the car into a scene of confusion for a fight, the screams of the women, and the appeals from men, into a sort of Pandemonium.

Some of the quietest people finally went for the conductor and begged that he would interfere, to prevent the women from insult and the men from violence. The conductor appealed to the passengers for assistance, and in the morning the brakemen to his aid went to the car wherein ruffianism reigned rampant. He asked Garvin and some of the latter's friends to assist him, and the party went to where the fight was going on, stopped it, and for the time it seemed as if all trouble was at an end. The conductor and brakemen went to their several stations, and Garvin was left alone, with the men who ruffianism had helped to suppress. This was the signal for the ruffians to revenge. Without a word of warning, several of the men jumped at Garvin and began a savage attack. Poor Garvin tried to defend himself as best he could, but his head was soon beaten to a jelly, and faint with loss of blood, blind from the blows he had received, and almost senseless, he staggered from the open door of the car to the platform.

Here Garvin held on to the brake and called for help. It was too late, as the victim sprang, a man came from the interior of the car, and raising his brass-knuckled hands, dealt Garvin a terrible blow on the forehead, knocking him like a log from the car, then going at a rate of nearly thirty miles an hour.

It is alleged that the man who dealt this blow is John Gallagher, a man whose life of crime has rendered him more familiar to the authorities of more states than any. The dealing of the murderous blow was known to the conductor a few minutes later, when the train was stopped and backed and Garvin found. He was dead. The body was brought on to Camden where the telegraph had apprised the authorities of the disturbance on board the train, and Gallagher at once surrendered himself to the officers.

County Physician Morgan held a post-mortem examination, and found that Garvin's skull had been fractured, and his right ear. Other bruises were also found on the body of the deceased. Gallagher has been in State Prison several times for assault and battery.

The body of Garvin arrived in Quincy on Thursday, and was buried from St. John's Church yesterday.

The Regatta.

The opening regatta of the Quincy Yacht Club, was sailed on Sunday afternoon last, off Quincy Point. It not being for the championship, but few boats were entered and not the usual interest was taken. Two prizes were offered in each class, a handsome French clock for the first, and a gold compass chain for the second. Only the second and the third classes sailed and the distances were respectively 5 7/8 and 6 miles. The result was as follows:-

Second Class.	Boat.	Time.
1st.	W. H. Smith.	1 1/2 1/2
2nd.	W. H. Smith.	1 3/4 1/2
3rd.	W. H. Smith.	1 5/8 1/2

THIRD CLASS.

Boat.	Time.
1st.	1 3/4 1/2
2nd.	1 5/8 1/2
3rd.	1 7/8 1/2

DECEMBER DAY. The 30th of this year falls on a Sunday and Memorial Day will be observed on Saturday. Paul Revere Post will on that day, pay their customary honors to their departed comrades who fell in defence of their country. Loving hands will once more lay their annual floral tributes on their last resting place. The Commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic recommends that the ministry be invited to deliver appropriate discourses to-morrow.

The Grand Army of the Republic extends a cordial invitation to the people generally to participate in paying a grateful tribute to the heroic men who were obedient to their country's call, and who testified their allegiance by the sacrifice of their lives.

DESIGNED. The Grand Army of the Republic of this town are to lose the services of one of their ablest officers, in the person of their Commander, Col. F. W. Parker, who has resigned his position as Post Commander, on account of the greatly increased demand upon his time, which his duties as School Superintendent require of him. An election will be held by the Post on Wednesday evening next, to fill the vacancy, and in the meantime the Post will be under the charge of Senior Vice Commander, John A. Pratt, Acting Commander.

A NEW DESK. There has been placed in the reading room at the Robertson House, this week, a very handsome writing desk for the use of the guests of the house. It was made by G. E. Carhart & Co., and at the back, in panels, are large showy business cards of some of the principle business men in this place. It is a pretty ornament to the room, and is very convenient for guests who may wish to write letters.

FLORAL SUNDAY. The floral festival of the Sunday School of the First Church will be celebrated the afternoon of the second Sunday in June, the 13th. There will be a beautiful service for the children, and it is the request of the pastor of the Church, that the names of children to be baptized be sent to him at once.

HOT DAYS. Mr. Joseph M. Glover, who has kept a diary of important events in this town for twenty-five years, says the warm days of last week were the hottest ever known in this place, so early in the season, for at least a quarter of a century.

Brief Locals.

A select chorus assisted by able solo talent will give the Cantata of Ruth, Saturday, at the Point next Wednesday evening.

Don't forget the "Old Folks Concert" at the Point next Wednesday evening.

G. T. Deffrees has a large stock of goods to select from, at Boston prices.

A novel feature in Ruth will be the chime of electric bells in connection with the piano and organ.

Good capable house girls are in good demand. Three or four can find good situations.

We would remind our readers that the Cantata of Ruth takes place at the Town Hall, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings next week.

The Fairbairn family the "Scotch Troubadours" who visited us about one year ago, are intending to be here again about the 1st week of June.

The house, barn and outbuildings belonging to the estate of the late Dr. Woodward, will be sold at auction on Tuesday, June 1.

Miss King and Mr. Elliot, of this town, with Miss Emily Winant, Mr. W. C. Tower, and the Germania Orchestra, are engaged to furnish music for commencement at Middlebury College, Vermont.

A game of base ball was played on Saturday afternoon between the teams of this town, on Thursday between the Harvard Freshmen and the Adams Academy nine, which resulted as follows:-Freshmen 20; Academy 5.

William G. Sheen, Esq., has been appointed by the Selectmen and School Committee to fill the vacancy in the School Board, occasioned by the resignation of Charles F. Adams, Jr., who has been appointed a member of the State Board of Education, by the Governor.

Glass Ball Shooting.

The Merry Mount Shooting Club held a glass ball shoot at Black's Woods on Saturday afternoon, the 8th inst., after which there was a challenge match between Edward Hardwick and George Monk, for the Silver Badge held by the latter. The following is the score:-

Boat.	Time.
1st.	1 1/2 1/2
2nd.	1 3/4 1/2
3rd.	1 5/8 1/2

FOR THE SILVER BADGE.

George Monk.	10	9	10
Edward Hardwick.	8	8	10

The same club held a glass ball smash at Kennedy's shop, near Westmouth last Saturday, after which there was a challenge match between Charles L. Prescott and George Monk for the Silver Badge. The following is the result:-

Boat.	Time.
1st.	1 1/2 1/2
2nd.	1 3/4 1/2
3rd.	1 5/8 1/2

FOR THE SILVER BADGE.

George Monk.	10	9	10
Charles L. Prescott.	8	8	10

This makes the third time Mr. Monk has held it. Only four more times, George, and the badge is yours.

DECEASED. Mr. Thomas Boylston, Jr., of Boylston Station, son-in-law of Mrs. John C. Randall of this town, died on Saturday last of consumption. He was the only surviving son of Thomas Boylston, Esq., of Jamaica Plains. He was born in 1845, and for the past sixteen years has been engaged in the merchandise brokerage business in Boston. Mr. Boylston was a gentleman of quiet, domestic habits, and genial manners, and his society was most valued by those who knew him best. His death, occurring at the early age of thirty-five, seems particularly melancholy. He leaves a widow; also, one child, Ward Nicholas Boylston, to perpetuate a name that has so long been connected with the history of Harvard College and of Boston in its earlier days.

DEATH. At the session of the County Commissioners held on Tuesday, upon a petition of the Selectmen of Westmouth for the relocation of the boundaries of Commercial street, it was ordered that a hearing be given at the Westmouth railroad station on Monday, June 28th.

The contract for the work and all materials, except stone, for the extension of the Westmouth jail was awarded to Albert Currier of Newburyport, for $17,800. The new extension is to be used for the sheriff's residence and office.

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT. We take pleasure in announcing that Miss A. M. Lord, is to be tendered a complimentary benefit by her many friends. They have succeeded in obtaining the co-operation of a list of talent, the merit of which, combined with the universal popularity of the beneficiary, will we trust fill the house to overflow. The concert, a programme of which will be published next week, will occur at Westollon, in the Congregational Church.

NEW PAPER. Wm. W. Burke, Esq., of Westmouth and C. L. Stone of Boston, have taken a very neat and readable paper, that they have called "The Nantasket Beach News." It contains the names of the different hotels at the beach and will give its readers every thing of note transpiring at this great bathing place. It is in quarto form and its local and miscellaneous columns are well filled. We compliment its editors on its neat appearance, and wish them success in their new enterprise.

SEEDS. Mr. E. Fred Washburn, florist, who for a number of years was a citizen of Quincy, and is well known to many of our readers, has an excellent Seed Store at 165 Tremont street, Boston. His stock of vegetable and flower seeds is extensive, and the quality very reliable. He is always pleased to see his old Quincy friends and we would suggest to those in want of choice seeds to give him a call.

The Dorchester Yacht Club will sail a close regatta Decoration Day. The race will probably start between 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It is thought the No. 1 course will be sailed. The sailing rules of the club will be observed.

New Laws.

The following is a brief synopsis of a few of the many laws which were enacted at the late session of the General Court:-

Collector of taxes must now be elected by ballot.

Towns are authorized to establish and maintain public reading rooms.

Vinegar must be made out of the juice of fruit.

The cental, as a measure of wheat and grain, is authorized.

Very strict laws in connection with the inspection of milk.

The estate of an insane person can be put into inventory.

More liberal provisions are made for the distribution of public documents.

Horse trotting upon frozen ponds used as a source of ice supply is prohibited.

Board at the State lunatic asylums is made uniform for towns at $3.25 per week.

Ancient burial grounds can not be taken for use without legislative authority.

Unclaimed property, like burglar's tools, etc., left in police possession, can be sold.

Public exhibitions in which children are employed must be licensed by the authorities.

Accounts of county officers must be audited by the savings bank commissioners.

Religious societies need not obtain licenses for entertainments for their own benefit.

One year is the extent of punishment by way of imprisonment for habitual drunkenness.

There are no longer any justices of the peace, and quorum justices of the peace may take acknowledgments in any part of the State.

Before any public or private business is presented to the Legislature hereafter it must be fully and explicitly advertised, and parties in interest duly notified.

The new reference department of the Boston Public Library upon the Back Bay is to be accessible to every citizen in the State.

Life insurance companies doing business in the State must pay a tax upon such assets. Estimated revenue from this source $250,000.

Gas companies are obliged to pay for the services of assistant inspectors, for the protection of gas producers and consumers.

The district police allowed to go where they please and when they please in manufacturing establishments for evidence, for prosecuting under the hours of labor laws.

A bill passed provides that the school committee shall require the reading of some portion of the Bible daily, but shall not require the use of any particular version, nor shall a child be required to read when its parents or guardians have given notice that they object to such reading, nor shall any of the doctrines of a particular sect be favored.

Yacht Point Items.

The race of the Quincy Yacht Club, Saturday, was quite interesting considering the few boats which put in an appearance. The little Dolly Varden beat them all "on the wind" but the large sails were too much for her "running free."

Wednesday evening the Quincy Point Temperance Association held its regular meeting, and it was quite interesting. Rev. Mr. Perry addressed the Association in his usual entertaining manner. A petition is being circulated to be presented to the Selectmen requesting them not to grant any licenses in the Point District.

Thursday evening the chorus and orchestra which are to take part in the "Old Folks Concert," to be given in the Christian Union Church, next Wednesday evening, met for a rehearsal at Baptist Hall. Great proficiency was shown, and the affair will undoubtedly be a success.

The yacht Lena is being altered from a centre-board into a keel boat, and is to be thoroughly overhauled, repaired and re-painted.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society will meet at the residence of Mrs. H. M. Feherden, Wednesday afternoon, 11.

One day last week nine schooners were laying at the wharves and piers of this place; this had the appearance of a return of the commercial activity of former years.

Nonpareil has four churches and is soon to have another; the Catholics are expected to commence theirs in June. Three of the churches have settled pastors.

We have three resident physicians although generally speaking Nonpareil is called a healthy place. Five of its police officers also reside in this pleasant village. We have several quiet and respectable gentlemen who act as Justices of the Peace, so we manage to get along at present without any lawyer.

We have no bank; several years ago an enterprising citizen built a banking room with a fire-proof vault, but we did not have quite money enough for a good bank, it was thought best not to have the building appearances. Dorchester district will soon have a bank. Matapan Bank sold out years ago; the Dorchester Savings Bank will close up its business soon, and we are informed that it is in contemplation to remove the Blue Hill Bank over to Milton partly for convenience, being near the depot; but mainly, we think, to avoid high city taxation.

Just before the time to vote on the annexation of Dorchester to Boston a pamphlet appeared having the initials of a well-known prominent citizen, addressed to "Patriot Citizens." It set forth in glowing language the advantages of annexation of Dorchester to the city; but the gentleman who advocated it, we believe, has been a permanent citizen of Milton ever since that unhappy event.

The following are the talented soloists that have kindly volunteered their services at the sacred concert to be given by the Union Musical Society on Sunday evening next, at Clapp's Hall, as a complimentary testimonial to Mrs. C. G. Thompson:-Mrs. J. W. Hart, Mrs. Sarah E. Cushing, Mrs. J. W. Hart, Mrs. Miss Nellie Young, Miss Annie Dean, Miss Susan H. Richards, Mr. O. H. Allen, Mr. J. Frank Porter, and Mr. N. P. Vining. Tickets, with names of donors, may be sent to the concert to commence at 7.45.

Dr. Charles H. Colburn, of Hingham, a member of the Westmouth Musical Society died on Saturday, May 15th, aged 37 years and 8 months. His death resulted from malignant diphtheria. The Society previous to his death he was called to attend, and perform an operation upon a girl aged eight years, of this place, who died the Friday following of the same disease. The doctor was much respected in Hingham, also by his many friends and associates of this vicinity who deeply mourn their loss. He was buried last Sunday. The Masonic Lodge and the Knights of Honor were present in a body. Governor Long, the physicians of Hingham and Westmouth and a large number of other prominent citizens were also present. Dr. Colburn leaves a widow and one son.

A match game of base ball was played last Saturday on the grounds near the Braintree Town House, between nine selected players from the Westmouth High School and members of the Thayer Academy. The game resulted in favor of the Academy boys by a score of 22 to 6. F. D. Holbrook was umpire and Hamilton and Pratt were the scorers. Bad beat for Westmouth boys.

Archery clubs are being formed for the several classes in the Thayer Academy, and in that sport expect to shoot a Westmouth Club when the latter is formed.

DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal cases have been before the Court this week:-

Michael Crowley and Michael J. Riley, of Westmouth, were arrested for burning the barn belonging to the Westmouth Iron Co., on the night of May 17th, 1880. For want of sufficient evidence they were discharged.

John McDermott, of Randolph, for an assault on Edward Smith, for non-payment he was carried to Dedham.

Boston, May 20.

Miss Annie Pixley in "M'Liss," the child of a big success, and is doing well and interested audiences at the Museum this week and will serve to close, next week what has been in some respects a very good season. M'Liss has been given in this city many times, and is based on Bret Hart's story of the same name. The character of M'Liss, of humor, and keeps the audience's interest throughout. The support is good, and the play is mounted in a satisfactory manner.

At the Globe, "Mother and Daughter," a new emotional play is being presented to close the brilliant season. Next week, Tony Pastor with his famous troupe of comedians will appear. "The Prince of Palermo" at the Boston Theatre will be succeeded on Monday evening by Augustin Daly's famous spectacle, "An Arabian Night."

At the Gaiety, Milton Nobles has presented his American drama, "A Man of the People," to large and appreciative audiences. The various scenes and exciting situations of the play have met with much favor during the week, and the company supporting the star, "Ages ago" and "Charity begins at home" will form one of the best programmes of the season. The music of both pieces is of the highest quality, and the dialogue runs smoothly. The company will introduce many charming novelties from their repertoire, and the support is worth any expectation to see his "big" theatre crowded with enthusiastic patrons every evening.

"French Flats" at the Park, has passed a big success, and is doing well and interested audiences at the Museum this week and will serve to close, next week what has been in some respects a very good season. M'Liss has been given in this city many times, and is based on Bret Hart's story of the same name. The character of M'Liss, of humor, and keeps the audience's interest throughout. The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1880.

In a Thousand Years From Now.

We never can contented be

With our own lot in life;

We've always trouble on our mind,

Some new-born care or strife;

Why not travel through the world

With sunshine on your brow?

For you'll never know the difference

In a thousand years from now.

'Twasn't do to be too good, these days,

Because you have your health—

You may some time the wrong man meet,

And thereby lose your health.

Don't scorn to earn your living

By the hoe, the spade or plow,

For you'll never know the difference

In a thousand years from now.

Because your parents are well off,

Don't scorn to learn a trade;

Remember when the sun is warm,

On light warm days in spring,

Don't scorn to do a little work—

Though sweat adorn your brow—

For you'll never know the difference

In a thousand years from now.

Farm and Garden.

Sowing Flower Seeds.

Amateur gardeners are apt to sow

The seed of flowers too deep. They germinate, but not having strength sufficient to pierce the soil, they decay.

On light warm days in spring,

Don't scorn to do a little work—

Though sweat adorn your brow—

For you'll never know the difference

In a thousand years from now.

Because your parents are well off,

Don't scorn to learn a trade;

Remember when the sun is warm,

On light warm days in spring,

Don't scorn to do a little work—

Though sweat adorn your brow—

For you'll never know the difference

In a thousand years from now.

Because your parents are well off,

Don't scorn to learn a trade;

Remember when the sun is warm,

On light warm days in spring,

Don't scorn to do a little work—

Though sweat adorn your brow—

For you'll never know the difference

In a thousand years from now.

Because your parents are well off,

Don't scorn to learn a trade;

Remember when the sun is warm,

On light warm days in spring,

Don't scorn to do a little work—

Though sweat adorn your brow—

For you'll never know the difference

In a thousand years from now.

SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1880.

Memorial Day.

Last Saturday was one of the loveliest days of the season. The gentle shower of the previous afternoon laid the dust, cooled the air, and the clear sky and bright sun made the atmosphere pure and delightful. At half past seven o'clock in the morning, Paul Revere Post met at Lyman Hall, and a detail of the comrades proceeded to Mount Wollaston Cemetery where eighty-eight graves were decorated. At half past nine another detachment took carriages for the National Soldiers' Home, where flowers were placed on fifty-one graves; the same detachment also paid tribute to eighteen graves in the Hancock Street Cemetery. At half past nine, a detail of comrades proceeded to the west part of the town, and floral offerings were placed on fifteen graves in the Hall and on forty-one in the Catholic cemetery. One grave in the Episcopal yard also received its tribute.

Having completed these duties of love the Post once more assembled at the Lyman Hall, and about half past twelve sat down to a bountiful feast. The tables were spread with a bountiful supply of meats, puddings, pies and cakes, there was an abundance of coffee, ice cream and strawberries composed the dessert. Major J. P. Jordan of the Governor's staff, formerly a resident of Wollaston provided the ice cream. Messrs. Waterhouse and Simmons of Wollaston made a donation of the strawberries. The donations for the tables were most generous, and the ladies who aided in the arrangements deserve great praise for securing such a bountiful contribution of good things. Having enjoyed this excellent feast, the Post and their invited guests assembled in the Town Hall, where the band entertained them with some fine music.

The exercises of the afternoon commenced at half past one by forming a procession in front of the Town Hall, consisting of the Post, preceded by the band, the orator of the day, invited guests and citizens, and the line of march was taken to Mount Wollaston Cemetery, where, with appropriate ceremonies the Soldiers' Monument was decorated. The band played a dirge; prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Perry. Comrades Charles A. Follett, E. A. Spear, 2d and Lewis G. McIntyre placed wreaths of red, white and blue, at the corners of the monument, each making short addresses. These were symbols of their order, Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.

Comrade Follett took the red wreath and delivered the following address:

COMRADES.—With this wreath I dedicate this monument in the name of Fraternity, the pillar that supports in part the edifice of the G. A. R.—Emblematic of that brotherly love which binds us together as comrades which makes us unite to-day in honor to the memory of those who fell in battle or died of wounds in the noble cause of our country. Let us unite to-day in one grand brotherhood of soldiers, ever true and fraternal to the living and dead comrades.

Junior Vice Commander McIntyre followed with the white wreath and said:

COMRADES.—With this white wreath I dedicate this monument, in the name of Charity. What nobler, noble virtue than that which breathes the Christian spirit of love for man, with charity toward all. As I deposit this wreath, Comrades, bear this lesson well in your mind, Charity suffereeth long, and is kind; it beareth all things; it hopeth all things; it believeth all things; it endureth all things; a noble gift and a priceless legacy of our Charity to the true men who died that our country might live.

Adjutant Spear with the wreath of blue flowers spoke as follows:

COMRADES.—In assembling here to-day to pay tribute to the memory of our fallen comrades, let us not forget the lofty patriotism, the unflinching loyalty that animated their hearts as they went forth at their country's call. Loyalty that required a man to leave home, friends and everything most dear and sacred to the heart of man, not only to imperil his life, but to endure the fatigue, the privations and the hardships of a soldier's life. So in the beautiful spring-time, as we place these flowers upon this shaft, let us remember that although our comrades call their lives in defense of their flag in the first century of their nation's existence, the remembrance of their valor and their sacrifices will remain to all posterity, fresh and beautiful as the flowers which we to-day have placed upon their graves.

Comrades.—In the name of Loyalty, I dedicate this monument with this blue wreath.

Commander John A. Pratt then stepped forward with a wreath composed of red, white and blue, emblem of the three virtues mentioned, and after making the following address, laid his wreath also at the corner of the monument:

COMRADES AND FRIENDS.—It is our pleasant duty on this day to perform the beautiful ceremony of dedicating this monument to the memory of our fallen comrades. We have no new glory in this day and nation. With us it is no idle and unmeaning ceremony, but a solemn recognition of the deep love and respect that we have for those who for love of country have made the noblest sacrifice that man can make. On this shaft I place this wreath as emblematic of our duty.—Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, the procession returned and marched to the Town Hall, where the Rev. Mr. Suively delivered a fine oration which will be found on the first page of to-day's paper. The band discoursed some excellent music at the close of the oration, and this concluded the ceremonies of the day.

At half past five the band gave a short outdoor concert which was highly enjoyed.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—Mrs. Sophia Newcomb, wife of Jonathan Newcomb of Quincy, Mass., who was born in Weymouth, November 22d, 1797 and died May 19th, 1880, she was consequently in her eighty-third year at the time of her death. The funeral occurred on May 25th, and she was the sixty-second anniversary of her marriage. Mr. Newcomb still remains to recall many happy years enjoyed with her who has now gone to be with Christ. The deceased was with the Union Congregational Church of Weymouth Landing in 1823 and hence she has been a member of the church for fifty-seven years. It can truly be said of her that she "endured to the end," and to-day, we trust, she is rejoicing in the paradise of God.

Many of our citizens are intending to visit Weymouth to-day, to see the parade, and witness the trial of the new steamer.

The Mount Wollaston Cemetery is very attractive, and is improving year by year, under the care of Superintendent Spear.

An immense stock of glass ware has been received this week by Mr. Charles B. Tilton, which he is selling at very low prices.

There were two hundred and five graves of soldiers, decorated by the Post, in this town last year; two hundred and fourteen this year.

Mrs. Wm. W. Greenough has generously presented this week one of the inmates of the Almshouse with an easy chair. A good example worthy of imitation.

The Selectmen have authorized a police to strictly enforce the liquor law, and to prevent as far as possible all unlicensed persons from selling, as will be seen by a notice in our columns.

A large gilded pony has been placed on the grave of Ernest Morse, son of Stephen Morse, at Mount Wollaston Cemetery. It is said that there are but two of them in this country.

The Citizen's Gas Company has been ordered by the City Council to place street lamps, and are now busy putting them in order. We learn that they do not intend lighting until the 1st of July.

We learn that the Congregational Society of Wollaston have extended a call to Mr. Allen, now in London, to become their Pastor. He is a very fine speaker and will please the young and old.

Floral festival of the Unitarian Sunday School will be held one week from to-morrow. The exercises will begin with Infant Baptism. The address will be by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore.

A solemn high mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church, West Quincy, next week, for the repose of the soul of Henry Franck, who died at Tunstall, England, of heart disease, May 14th, 1880, aged 30 years.

In the union regatta of the South Boston Yacht Club, held on Wednesday in Dorchester bay, the Zip, owned by Mr. George W. Morton of this town, took the second prize of three dollars in the fourth class centre-board.

The axle of one of the wheels of Mr. B. F. Billings' carriage broke as he was driving out of the town on Canal street on Decoration day. Mr. Billings had his family and some other ladies with him at the time of the mishap, but fortunately no one was injured.

The Sacred Concert given at the Town Hall Sunday evening, by the Norfolk Jubilee Singers, was well attended. They are very fine singers and their songs delighted the listeners. They propose visiting Quincy again next week, and we all who wish to enjoy themselves should be present.

Jerry Doyle, a lad of about fifteen years of age, got his arm caught in a belt at Messrs. McKenzie & Paterson's polishing works on Wednesday, which broke it in three places. He was carried to the hospital in Boston on Thursday, and the doctors are afraid he will lose his arm.

For the Patriot.

Quincy Point Items.

The Ladies Benevolent Society met Wednesday afternoon, and made quite a number of garments for needy children.

The Quincy Point Temperance Association met at Baptist Hall, Wednesday evening and quite a number were present. The Association made a few dollars from the "Old Folk's Concert."

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. H. H. Faxon for his gift of $25. A petition has been circulated among the voters of the Point, and sent in to the Selectmen praying that no license be granted in the Point district.

The Ladies' Aid Society have been busy as bees the past week, and have succeeded in raising money enough to purchase new carpets for the Christian Union Church, and to otherwise improve the looks of the interior.

The new Baptist Chapel is nearly completed, and makes a good appearance. The chimney looks rather lonesome.

The Vulture engine will be done in about two weeks.

The Chauntaqua Club met Thursday evening at the residence of Rev. G. W. Coon.

The Benevolent Society meet next Wednesday afternoon, at Mrs. H. M. Federhen's, and the Temperance Association at Baptist Hall in the evening.

Work will be commenced on the road to be repaired according to the vote of the town, probably next week.

We often hear this question asked,—Why don't the contractors furnish more stone for the sloops to carry, and not keep three or four of them lying still all the time?

Glass Ball Shoot.

On Saturday afternoon last, the Merry Mount Shooting Club held a glass ball shoot at their range at twenty balls, after which there was a challenge match between Messrs. George Monk and Albert Keating, for the silver badge held by the former. The following is the summary:

George Monk, 21, 9 9 18
Albert Keating, 10 9 19

The above being a tie they shot off at eleven balls each, the final result being:

George Monk, 5 6 11
Albert Keating, 5 6 10

Mr. Keating again holds the badge.

ANNUAL MEETING. The Merry Mount Shooting Club held a meeting at their rooms, on Saturday evening last, for the election of officers for the year ensuing and elected the following officers:

President.—George Monk.
Secretary.—Albert Keating.
Treasurer.—Henry O. Studley.
Ex-Officio.—Edward Hardwick, and Frank Curtis.

The Club is in a prosperous condition adding new members at every meeting and bids fair to rival any Club in the State. The members are about looking over the lodge room next Thursday evening.

The finder of a bound volume of Gleason's Pictorial will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at the Patriot Office.

Mr. Joseph T. French will commence running his new and pretty barge, Josephine, to Nantasket beach next week.

Many of our citizens are intending to visit Weymouth to-day, to see the parade, and witness the trial of the new steamer.

The Mount Wollaston Cemetery is very attractive, and is improving year by year, under the care of Superintendent Spear.

An immense stock of glass ware has been received this week by Mr. Charles B. Tilton, which he is selling at very low prices.

There were two hundred and five graves of soldiers, decorated by the Post, in this town last year; two hundred and fourteen this year.

Mrs. Wm. W. Greenough has generously presented this week one of the inmates of the Almshouse with an easy chair. A good example worthy of imitation.

The Selectmen have authorized a police to strictly enforce the liquor law, and to prevent as far as possible all unlicensed persons from selling, as will be seen by a notice in our columns.

A large gilded pony has been placed on the grave of Ernest Morse, son of Stephen Morse, at Mount Wollaston Cemetery. It is said that there are but two of them in this country.

The Citizen's Gas Company has been ordered by the City Council to place street lamps, and are now busy putting them in order. We learn that they do not intend lighting until the 1st of July.

We learn that the Congregational Society of Wollaston have extended a call to Mr. Allen, now in London, to become their Pastor. He is a very fine speaker and will please the young and old.

Floral festival of the Unitarian Sunday School will be held one week from to-morrow. The exercises will begin with Infant Baptism. The address will be by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore.

A solemn high mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church, West Quincy, next week, for the repose of the soul of Henry Franck, who died at Tunstall, England, of heart disease, May 14th, 1880, aged 30 years.

In the union regatta of the South Boston Yacht Club, held on Wednesday in Dorchester bay, the Zip, owned by Mr. George W. Morton of this town, took the second prize of three dollars in the fourth class centre-board.

The axle of one of the wheels of Mr. B. F. Billings' carriage broke as he was driving out of the town on Canal street on Decoration day. Mr. Billings had his family and some other ladies with him at the time of the mishap, but fortunately no one was injured.

The Sacred Concert given at the Town Hall Sunday evening, by the Norfolk Jubilee Singers, was well attended. They are very fine singers and their songs delighted the listeners. They propose visiting Quincy again next week, and we all who wish to enjoy themselves should be present.

Jerry Doyle, a lad of about fifteen years of age, got his arm caught in a belt at Messrs. McKenzie & Paterson's polishing works on Wednesday, which broke it in three places. He was carried to the hospital in Boston on Thursday, and the doctors are afraid he will lose his arm.

Census Enumerators.

The enumerators have commenced their labors, and the following is the family schedule to be used:—

Name of street.
House Number.

Families numbered in order of visitation.

The name of each person whose place of abode, on 1st day of June 1880, was in this family.

Color. Sex. Age at last birthday, prior to June 1, 1880.

If born within the census month.

Relationship of each person to the head of this family—whether wife, son, daughter, servant, boarder or other.

Single, married, widowed, divorced, married during census year.

Profession, occupation or trade of each person, male or female.

Number of months each person has been unemployed during the census year.

As to the inability to attend to ordinary business or duties.

Blind, deaf, dumb, idiotic, insane, maimed, crippled, bedridden, or otherwise disabled.

Attended school within the census year.

Place of birth of each person, naming state or territory of United States, or the country if of foreign birth.

Place of the birth of the father.

Place of birth of the mother.

The work of the enumerator will be made easier, and much time will be saved, if every head of a family will be prepared with answers to the questions.

No child born between the 1st of June and the day of the enumerator's visit is to be counted, but must go over to the next census.

Whoever shall refuse to comply with the requirements of the act in relation to the giving of information, is liable to pay a fine of not exceeding $100.

It is noteworthy that at the census of 1870, the agents of the census in the United States found it necessary to resort to the courts for enforcement of the obligation to give information according to the census act.

All the officers are required to complete their inquiries and make their returns by July 1st. In Great Britain the census is taken in a single day, beginning just after midnight, and with such a large staff of officers as to complete the collection of returns within twenty-four hours.

People should think over the answers to be made, in order to have them as full and accurate as possible, and it will, perhaps, save time if each household should make a memorandum, in advance, of the facts in connection with his family and his business, remembering two things: First, that the enumerators are officers of the United States, authorized by law to make the inquiries, and to compel all persons to give full and true answers, and second, that the answers are confidential communications, not to be divulged to any one except the superior officers in the central bureau, and consequently not to be used to any one's disadvantage or detriment in any possible way.

The census takers are in pursuit of accurate information, which will be valuable to every one, concerning our population, resources and growth as a nation. Census statistics are essential factors, of the facts in connection with our family and his business, remembering two things: First, that the enumerators are officers of the United States, authorized by law to make the inquiries, and to compel all persons to give full and true answers, and second, that the answers are confidential communications, not to be divulged to any one except the superior officers in the central bureau, and consequently not to be used to any one's disadvantage or detriment in any possible way.

SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1880.

For the Patriot.

GERTRUDE.

Rose-lipped June,

Crowned with garlands rare,

Helioprote and Pansies,

Phlox and Eglantine;

Starry-eyed and dreamy,

Singing songs of love,

Whispering in the gloaming,

Murmuring in the grove;

Breathing sylvan odors,

Favishing the ear,

Whispering to the violets,

When the dawn is near,

So thy presence seemeth,

Maiden fair, and coy;

Like a winsome June day,

Filled with peace and joy.

THE reason why a violent fit of anger frequently causes illness, is because it occasions an undue secretion of bile, alters its quality, and often causes it to be absorbed by the blood.

A solution of bicarbonate of soda will stop the pain and soreness of a turn instantly, if applied when the injury first occurs. The solution should be used as follows.

Coffee given hot and strong is an excellent remedy for many pains, but let a physician always be sent for as soon as possible in cases of poisoning.

This and That.

The best thing in dress goods is a pretty girl.

Franklin says that rich widows are the only second-hand goods that sell at prime cost.

Fashion Notes.

Tulle continues to be the preferred bridal veil.

Large hats with irregular, turned-up brims are elaborately trimmed with ostrich plumes, flowers, gold beads and gold ornaments, and used for carriage drives, archery, garden and lawn parties, or on all occasions when dressy toilets are admissible.

The most elegant of all summer evening toilets are dresses of cream or white tulle, with a fine straw island cotton fabric, made up with dounces heavily embroidered in cream and white floss with gold thread chain stitching introduced as outlines to the designs.

Some very pretty white short costumes are made for country wear, composed of a skirt of lawn or muslin trimmed with two deep flounces edged with Italian lace and headed with insertions of the same, and a long half-fitting sacque adorned with a similar ruffle at the bottom and trimmed with tucks and lace insertion.

NO MORE RHEUMATISM

GOUT, GRAVEL, OR DIABETES.

The barometer, infallible FRENCH SAL-

ICYL, cures Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel,

Diabetes,

Robberies.

Early yesterday morning the residence of the late Joseph S. Beale, on Adams street, in this town, was broken into by turning the key in the door with nippers, and the clothes of Mr. Caleb H. Adams were taken from his sleeping room, and some forty dollars were stolen from the pockets.

The same night an unsuccessful attempt was made to enter the residence of Mr. Nathaniel H. Beale, on Adams street.

A more successful attempt was however made at the residence of Jesse Buntin, Esq. There the rascal succeeded in getting into the residence by the kitchen window, and ransacked the house pretty thoroughly. The key to the safe was found in Mr. Buntin's pocket, by which the safe was opened and the contents completely overhauled. Among the things carried off were a gold hunting-case watch, U. S. check for $6 payable to W. Q. Baxter, and some $20 in money.

The rascal was pretty bold, visiting the sleeping apartment and taking articles of the table near Mr. Buntin's bed.

Closing Stores.

Many of the prominent shop keepers in this place have decided to close their places of business at 6 P. M., on every Wednesday evening until October 1st. This is a move in the right direction, as it gives the clerk and others who are kept from twelve to fourteen hours a day a chance to get one evening a week for rest and recreation.

In Weymouth, at Neponset, and at other places, this plan has been adopted with great success. It is a move in the right direction, as it gives the clerk and others who are kept from twelve to fourteen hours a day a chance to get one evening a week for rest and recreation.

The following named persons have signed a written agreement to close, and we learn that they are all intended to close their stores—George T. DeFrees, J. F. Merrill, Albert Keating, Charles B. Tilton, John O. Holden, Charles F. Pettengill, Samson & Hanson, James W. Pierce, Miss C. W. S. Hovey, Mrs. E. H. Richardson, Miss C. S. Milton, Miss M. J. Bellows, Miss M. A. French, Mrs. Sarah Kineale, F. F. Brown, Frank A. Spear, C. A. Spear, John H. Dingman and Charles Crane.

HANCOCK LODGE ANNIVERSARY. Hancock Lodge No. 56, I. O. O. F., celebrated their first anniversary on Thursday evening last, at their lodge room. Among the many invited guests present were the Rev. G. B. Lawton, Rev. Samuel Kelley, H. M. Follen; also the Quincy Temperance Society Quartette, also the G. W. S. Hovey, Mrs. S. A. Leonard, and Mutual Lodge, No. 119, of East Weymouth. The meeting opened with singing by the Quartette, followed by prayer by Rev. G. B. Lawton. Speeches by Rev. Samuel Kelley, H. M. Follen, Rev. John and Mrs. Kelley, and H. M. Follen. The above literary exercises were interspersed by music and singing. The guests were then invited to partake of a beautiful collation to which they did ample justice. The meeting broke up at a late hour, with the general wish of success and prosperity to the lodge.

SAD ACCIDENT. While T. C. Young, son of Mr. Charles Morris, was fully scalded on Thursday the third inst., by falling into a wash boiler, which had been removed from the stove into a short time. The little sufferer lingered until Monday morning, when released by death. He was about five years of age and was a very bright and interesting child. This sad affliction has cast a gloom over a happy family. Mr. Morris and his wife have retired to this town. They removed to South Boston last fall where they were residing at the time of the accident.

ACCIDENT. Last Sunday evening, at two little boys, sons of Mr. William B. Worster and Mrs. Charles F. Pierce were playing on the sidewalk in front of Mr. G. F. Wilson's market, one of them accidentally pushed the other under the passing carriage of Mr. Joseph W. Leonard, who was driving. The boy was picked up by Mr. Leonard, who carried him to Mr. Ward's apothecary store, and from there he was conveyed to his home. No blame was attached to Mr. Leonard, as he did not see the children time enough to prevent the accident.

A SCAMP. About four o'clock on Thursday morning, some malicious individual threw a large stone through one of the front windows of Dr. Patton's apothecary shop on School street, the window being shattered and in smashing a piece of glass and breaking in some one of the large drug-glass show bottles in the window. The doctor had a pair of these show bottles, which were manufactured in Germany from a special design, at a cost of $300, and were probably the largest in the country, standing six feet high.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS. A large meeting of Post 88, G. A. R. held Wednesday evening last, Senior Vice-Commander John A. Pratt was elected to the position of Commander, in place of Col. F. W. Parker, resigned; Junior Vice-Commander, John R. Graham, was elected to the position of Junior Vice-Commander, in place of John R. Graham, resigned; and Commodore Lewis C. McIntyre was elected to the position of Junior Vice-Commander.

PERSONAL. We regret to learn that Rev. Geo. W. Whitney, former pastor of the Universalist Society, of this town, has had recently a severe attack of hemorrhage, and felt obliged to ask of his society, at Augusta, Maine, a vacation of three months. He is now stopping at his father's in Waltham.

PERSONAL. Mr. William W. Pratt, our former town clerk, is busily engaged in making new keys for doors and windows, at 26 Bromfield street, Boston. Windows will be measured and screens adjusted to the perfect satisfaction of any of our citizens.

ARRIVALS. The following schooners arrived at South's Wharf—June 1st, Schooner Zion; on the 4th inst., Schooner Samaria; on the 7th inst., Schooner Warren, all loaded with lumber for J. R. Johnson.

Brief Locals.

Boys save up your pennies for the Fourth of July.

A solemn mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's Church, West Quincy, on Tuesday last, for the repose of the soul of Henry Francis. An elegant monument is to be erected to his memory in the Catholic Cemetery.

A beautiful sight free of cost, the fine collection of pot plants in front of Col. Packard's residence; also, plants and flowers on his lawn. They are worthy of notice, being the best collection anywhere to be found in this town or immediate vicinity.

Joseph W. Lombard will sell at Sheriff's sale, on Monday next, at Mayflower Park, South Braintree, at the boot manufactory of Thatcher White, all the machinery, tools, &c., used in said factory, together with a lot of calf skins, sole leather, &c.

Anthony Flaherty, a gentleman about sixty years of age, was run over and killed by the cars at West Quincy, on Saturday last. He was noticed by the engineer who whistled to him, and he looked up, but instead of moving away he went upon the track and was horribly mangled.

The stores in this town are to close every Wednesday evening at six o'clock, except when that evening precedes a holiday. Most of the store keepers have come into the arrangement, and it is hoped that it will be generally following, as it is in all the neighboring towns.

FLORAL FESTIVAL. The festival to be observed at the Unitarian Church to-morrow afternoon will be more attractive than usual. Exercises will open at 3 o'clock with a Song of Welcome by the school, followed by Baptismal service. A Mother's prayer, by the choir, will be followed by remarks by the pastor, in memoriam, upon Ernest W. Morse and Miss Sarah Nash; hymns; address by the Superintendent, Pastor and others; but the address by Mrs. M. A. Livermore is expected to be superior. She is one of the best lady speakers in this country.

Quincy Point Items.

The Christian Union Church is undergoing a renovation in its interior. The ladies have been busy this week cleaning up, and all the old carpets have been removed to give place to new ones. It is time that all interested in religious services come forward, and by their subscription and zeal, help to carry on the highest duty assigned to mankind on earth. No good cause should be allowed to suffer for any prejudice, but personal ends should be placed in the background for the common good, and not be brought forward to be a drag upon a noble work.

The Quincy Point Temperance Association held its regular meeting, on Wednesday evening with a large attendance. The feature of the evening was the effort of Rev. G. B. Lawton to instill into the minds of some of his hearers, the necessity of greater activity, to the end that there might be more life at the Point. Many of his suggestions were good, and we hope to see them adopted.

Mrs. Priscilla Lawrence was buried from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Jones, Thursday afternoon. The services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Lawton. Mrs. Lawrence will be remembered by many as quite a prominent lecturer.

Mr. Lemuel Baxter has returned from Chicago.

Workmen have been busy all the week in re-laying the wall which sustains the sidewalk, front of Mr. J. E. Whiton's land. As predicted by Mr. Whiton at town meeting, the wall gave way when the trees that grew against it were cut down.

A number of the members of the Q. P. T. A. attended the anniversary of the I. O. G. T. A. at Revere Hall, Thursday evening, and had a fine time and were treated with great cordiality.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society will meet at St. H. M. Follen's, on Wednesday afternoon, and the Temperance Association at Baptist Hall in the evening.

Mr. James H. Slade has returned from San Francisco.

The Wollaston Concert.

Much surprise and comment was occasioned by the appearance, in your last issue, of a very erroneous account of the concert at Wollaston, May 31. I do not wonder that "F. H." was ashamed to acknowledge an article so suggestive of a "sore head," but it seems to me that he might have given the initial of his last name and made it H. (Something). I am led to think that either he allows his personal prejudice to overpower his judgment, or he is entirely without the ability to judge. At all events he must surely be an incompetent critic, and an unreliable correspondent, for if any part were defective, it certainly was not the contrary, and any unbiased person who attended the concert, will bear me out in the assertion that it would be difficult to conceive of a superior rendition of the piece he selects for the purpose of displaying his inimitable ("F.") powers as a critic. OBITUARY. Mr. Charles F. Pierce, for many years a tin-plate worker, and dealer in stoves and hardware, in this place, died suddenly on Sunday night last. He has been gradually sinking for some months, but had been able to be dressed every day. On Sunday afternoon he arose and went to the sitting room to see a brother who had come from Boston. In the evening he returned to his bed, and after a few hours rest he appeared to grow a little better, and a physician was called, but life soon fled. He left an affectionate wife and one son to mourn his loss.

JURORS. Jonathan Pratt and George H. Locke were drawn by the Selectmen yesterday morning, as grand jurors to the United States Court, for the holden in Boston, for the term of 1880. Alfred Sampson and Charles N. Baxter were also drawn as petit jurors to the U. S. Court, June term.

These are the first gentlemen that have been drawn from Quincy to the U. S. Court, since 1874.

ACCIDENT. Three young men riding at East Mill River on Sunday had a smash-up, and their horse run away leaving them to walk home.

DISTRICT COURT. The Court has had more business this week than usual. The following cases have been disposed of:—

Thomas McCarthy, of Quincy, for an assault on his wife. Found guilty and sent to the House of Correction for three months.

Michael Callahan, of Randolph, for being drunk. Fined $1.

Michael Doran, of Weymouth, for an assault on his better half. He was found guilty and ordered to Dedham for three months.

Doran was also complained of for being drunk, and was fined $1 for said offense.

Peter J. Sullivan, of Weymouth for disturbing the peace. Found guilty and fined $10 and costs. For non-payment was sent to House of Correction at Dedham.

John F. Moriarty, of Braintree for illegally selling intoxicating liquors. Fined $50 and costs. He appeared, but being unable to give bonds was carried to Dedham.

Martin Dalton, Peter White and John Doherty, of Quincy for being drunk were each fined $1.

John Fallon, of Braintree, for larceny. Discharged for want of evidence.

John Deselle, of Quincy, for larceny. Discharged.

Cornelius Ford, of Quincy, for an assault on Henry N. Riddout. He was put on probation.

Nantasket Beach Railroad. Work has been pushed rapidly forward upon the Nantasket Beach Railroad. Immediately upon the removal of the legal impediments in the way of its completion, the road will be set to work, and up to the present moment the work has gone rapidly forward.

Last Saturday night the track was all laid out, and the rails spiked down, while at the present time the ballasting has been nearly completed, and the progress made toward filling in the low lands near Point Allerton. It is expected that the road will be in condition to receive the rolling stock during the ensuing week. The engine and cars have been built by the Locomotive Works of New Hampshire, and are now finished and ready for transportation. Two engine and four cars will arrive next week, to be followed at intervals by other cars, as occasion may require. Work has been going on at the station house, which is a handsome building. Its dimensions will be 170 by 40 feet, one story in height. A stone-arched roof will surmount the building at one end, where will be located the offices. Between the highway and the station a plank walk eighteen feet wide will be built. The building and walk will cost $7000. Between the two extremities of the road, the road will intervene at convenient distances. The engine house, time tables and work shops will be located at the Point Allerton end.—Nantasket Beach News.

SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1880.

Floral Festival at First Church.

The floral festival by the Sunday School connected with the First Church, on Sunday last, was very excellent and enjoyable feast, and was highly creditable to the Superintendent, Pastor, scholars and all who lent a helping hand.

The exercises commenced promptly at three o'clock, by a "Song of Welcome," by the school, which was followed by baptismal service by the Pastor, when five little darlings were brought forward by their parents, and dedicated to the love of the Lord, viz:

ALVAN MORESON,
HARRIET RAYMOND HEALEY,
MADELYN WINSLOW,
ELLEN MARIA HARDWICK,
HOLMES SCALDS TAYLOR.

This beautiful and attractive ceremony was followed by singing one of Whittier's hymns by the choir.

The Pastor then made some touching remarks in memory of two of the school, who had passed away during the year.

ERNEST W. MORSE,
MISS SARAH NASH.

After a few appropriate and beautiful songs, enjoining the lives of these two members, the school sang the hymn, "Beautiful Home of Rest."

The Superintendent then made a short and appropriate address, thanked the large gathering that had assembled, and gave a brief report of the standing of the school. He said the whole number belonging was 176; average attendance during the year was 162, the lowest number present any one Sabbath was 66. That the school had collected during the year, and contributed to the Children's Mission in Boston, $100.

After a song by the school, Charles A. Foster, Esq., made a short address, which received close attention. A beautiful solo, by the leader of the choir came next in order, which was followed by an admirable address by Mrs. Livermore, one of the ablest and finest lady speakers in this country. Her remarks, although simple and unadorned, and spoken more especially to the children, received marked attention from the entire audience, and will be remembered, particularly some touching points, for many years to come. What a blessing it would be to our Sabbath Schools if they could hear a few words from the lips of this noble woman each Sunday. How pleasant it would be to live in her sunshine, and draw in the comfort, peace and joy she imparts.

A hymn, entitled "Scatter Kind Words," was then sung by the school, and the pastor, Rev. D. M. Wilson, made a short address. He spoke of their former beloved pastor, who was with them at their floral festival last year. He asked the members of the school, who would like to send a Greeting to him, in the far West, to manifest it, which was very unanimously responded to.

After another hymn by the school, followed by the Lord's Prayer, and a song by the choir, the benediction was pronounced.

The exercises although quite lengthy were enjoyed throughout. The large handsome white cross, tinted with red, in front of the pulpit was very beautiful. The daisies and other flowers were very tastefully arranged, and attracted much attention. Such occasions as these are certainly a foretaste of heaven, and no one could leave the church without feeling happy and better.

FATAL TERMINATION. On the 5th of April, Francis, a little boy of about two and a half years of age, son of Mr. Peter McCarty of this town, was badly bitten on the cheek and scalp by a large Newfoundland dog belonging to Miss Dora Weston, of Weymouth. The little boy was playing in his father's yard at the time, having been out of the house about five minutes, when the dog, which was evidently mad, flew at him. The wounds were attended by one of the best physicians and the child had the best of care, and on the 5th of this month the wounds entirely healed.

A few days previous to the healing a marked irritability of temper was noticed but nothing strange was thought of it, as the warm weather will often make children feel irritable and uncomfortable. On the 10th instant he showed pronounced symptoms of canine mad-dness, barking and snapping like a dog, which rapidly developed into hydrophobia.

The sufferings of the poor little darling were terrible at times, but by the aid of an anesthetic he was partially relieved. Mrs. Gordon, Sherman, Danvers and Gilbert were with him. He died last Saturday night at 11 o'clock.

The dog rushed wildly through this town biting and snapping at other dogs, and on his return, some his strange actions attracted the attention of Weston's family, and she had the animal shot. Mr. P. McDowell killed his dog a few weeks ago. It was thought that he was one of the animals bitten by the Weston dog.

We should think now that one life had been sacrificed in such a fearful manner, that our citizens would feel a safety in having all dogs running at large muzzled, for there is no knowing in whose family may be the next victim.

Mr. McCarty and his wife have the sympathy of their friends and neighbors in this sad affliction.

YOUNG BROTHERS. The warehouse houses at Rock Island and Hough's Neck have been broken into several times during the past winter and spring and sundry articles carried away. The owners accordingly secured the services of Officer Farnham who has been for some time investigating the case, and on Saturday last secured two search warrants and with the aid of Officer Locke found a portion of the articles in the possession of Michael B. Murphy on Greenfield street. Murphy was taken into custody by the officers.

Early Sunday morning the same officers searched the house of Widow Mary Kelly on Brackett Place, where they found a quantity of rifle cartridges, a powder flask, and about thirty keys in an old-fashioned brick stove.

Other articles were also found upstairs and down cellar. Mrs. Kelly's son was accordingly taken into the lock-up. A silk handkerchief, valued at $1.00, was found in possession of one of the beach houses, was found in his coat pocket.

Most of the stolen property was recovered and it has been ascertained that Kelly on Sunday secured $1500 haul and was allowed his liberty.

On Monday these young rogues were before Judge Bumpus, and after a partial trial their cases were continued until to-day.

Brief Locals.

The street watering cart is kept busy.

Native strawberries are very plenty and cheap.

The Carver Brothers are erecting a new brick in place of their old one.

It is very dry, and if it continues the haymakers will be very busy next week.

Cherries in this vicinity are ripe some ten days earlier this season than usual.

The citizens of the Point are intending to celebrate the Fourth in good shape.

The Woodward house has been raised from its underpinning ready for moving next week.

The Union Band of Quincy will shortly give a series of open-air concerts at West Quincy.

There will be a glass ball shoot by the Merry Mount Club at their grounds this afternoon.

The Coddington school will give a public exhibition in gymnastics, at the Town Hall next week.

The Quincy High School Graduation will take place at the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening, June 23d.

The classes of '77, '78 and '80 will go on their annual excursion in a few weeks. We sympathize with the class of '79.

Wm. G. A. Pattee, Esq., of this town left here on Thursday, to attend the National Democratic Convention at Cincinnati.

About fifteen members of the Brockton Bicycle Club passed through our town, on Sunday morning last, bound for the sea-shore.

The new Crane Public Library is to be built of Quincy granite, with Ohio trimmings. The work will be commenced next month.

The Quincy Shakespeare Club had a pleasant time last Saturday, at a beach house of Mr. Edward Whittier, at Hough's Neck.

The Seventeenth passed off very quietly in this place. Most of the stores and public buildings were closed and the day wore a quiet appearance.

The annual floral concert by the Sabbath School of the M. E. Church of West Quincy, will take place to-morrow evening, commencing at 7-1/2 o'clock.

The physicians appointed to examine the public schools in gymnastics have decided that the exercises given by the Washington school, at Quincy Point, were the best.

A large quantity of grass has been cut this week. The crop, owing to the dry weather, is ripe earlier than usual, and is not so stout as was anticipated the first part of the season.

The yacht Rocket, was capsized in Black's Creek, last Sunday, and its captain thrown into the water. The contents of his pocket, together with his wallet and money went to the bottom, but were afterwards recovered.

THOUGHTFUL. One of our large-hearted subscribers who goes to Swampscott for the summer, wishes we might have our office located in "his yard," so we might enjoy the lovely water much more.

There are certainly a foretaste of heaven, and no one could leave the church without feeling happy and better.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL. The Congregational society held a strawberry festival at their chapel on Monday evening. The evening was pleasant and quite a large assemblage was present who enjoyed a social time and participated in the luxury of a treat of ice cream, strawberries and cake.

FIRE. A small barn, valued at $50, on the estate of the late Jonathan Marsh, on School street, was destroyed by fire yesterday forenoon. It caught accidentally, from a pipe which a man was smoking when he entered the building. An alarm was given about quarter to twelve, and the fire department turned out.

SUDDEN DEATH. Mr. Edward A. Bartlett, son of the late Ibrahim Bartlett, was found dead in his bed, at the residence of Mr. Henry W. Parker, off Granite street, on Sunday morning last. He worked a few hours on Saturday morning, and afterwards went to Boston on Bowditch's express train. When he returned in the evening he went to his room where he was found dead the next morning.

FLORAL CONCERT. The Sunday School connected with the Congregational Church of this town, held their floral festival on Sunday evening last. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers, and the exercises were very pleasing and consisted of reading of scriptures, singing, speaking and an address by the Superintendent. At the close of the exercises the Superintendent, Mr. McKim, read a paper on "The friends and wreaths would be given to the friends of the Sunday school children, who had died within the last five years, to be placed on their graves.

JUG BREAKING. Last Wednesday evening the infant class of the Congregational Sabbath School, held a little entertainment at the Chapel. Beautiful flowers were festooned around the singing, and the little ones were seated. The children had little earthen jugs into which they had placed their pennies. As they concluded their jugs and the pennies were counted; the one who had secured the most received a little prize. The children were highly delighted with the entertainment. The money thus collected is to buy Sunday School papers and other things connected with their school.

ARRIVALS. The following vessels have arrived at Quincy Point the present week:—

June 14th, Schooner T. Sinnickson, Capt. Dickinson, arrived from Philadelphia, with Lakens Valley coal for D. Howard Bliss.

The Schooner Lillian, Capt. Ryan, arrived the same day from Belfast, with granite for George H. Mitchell.

On the same day, the Schooner Mary Nash Cummings, with granite for W. Thompson, Wollastons, E. E. Williams, C. R. Sherman, George P. Pinkham, POINT, H. M. Federhen, I. Freeman Hall, F. H. Smith; ATLANTIC, W. A. Stewart, Jr., E. A. Perkins, W. H. Nicholson.

Wednesday evening the Quincy Point Temperance Association held its regular meeting; the audience was small on account of the rain.

There was a meeting held at Baptist Hall Wednesday evening by a number of gentlemen who propose to have the Fourth of July celebrated at Quincy Point in a highly patriotic manner; sub-committees were appointed to arrange for singing, reading of the Declaration of Independence, and an oration in the Christian Union Church; also a "horrible" procession; an athletic entertainment, and a fine display of fireworks in the evening. A finance committee was also appointed and over half of the money necessary to carry out the programme was raised in half an hour. The whole committee met again next Wednesday evening to settle all the details.

Thursday evening the Ladies' Aid Society gave a strawberry festival at the Neck school house and the people filled the room; every article for sale was disposed of and the profits were very gratifying.

The schooner yacht, "Breeze," lately purchased by Commodore John Quincy Adams, arrived at the Point this week.

The schooner, "Breeze," is to be immediately overhauled, repaired and painted. Capt. Samuel Brown will be master and Mr. William Maybury, Jr., mate. The yacht cost some $8000 to build, but was purchased by the present owner at a much less price.

A number of men, under the charge of Mr. Ordway, have been at work the past week making an open drain on a portion of Washington street.

Very amusing to see the great interest now taken in the improvement by the men who fought so hard against having it. The chairman of the sidewalk committee is especially attentive.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society met Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. H. M. Federhen's and the Temperance Association in the evening at Baptist Hall.

Some time next week the graduating class of the Washington school, in charge of Mr. Hall, the principal, will be taken to Boston to view places of historical interest, and will dine at Young's.

The pedestrians here are rejoicing in the prospect of connected sidewalks. The Surveyor has shown a commendable appreciation of our wants and desire to co-operate with those who are ambitious to beautify and render attractive this charming site.

We are a temperance community, and still a good many here of late are taking to Porter, confident that through such an agent their appearance will be improved without any serious detriment to morals or health.

Dr. William Hague has returned from a vacation and was cordially welcomed by all. May he long live to cheer and encourage the growing community.

Rev. Mark Traflet preached a characteristic sermon in the Congregational Church last Sabbath, replete with pointed truth to the "married couples and single persons" who were present.

The importance of training as well as educating children was shown in a light well calculated to impress all who heard his truthful remarks. He believed that the want of religious training in our schools is leaving a fearful responsibility to parents of present age.

Mr. Sabbath Mr. Traflet was present, but the extremely light breeze prevented many from sailing over the course. The following is a summary:

THE REGATTA.

The first champion race of the season by the Quincy Yacht Club, took place on Saturday last, off Quincy Great Hill, Hough's Neck. The day was pleasant and quite a number of yachts were present, but the extremely light breeze prevented many from sailing over the course. The following is a summary:

Braintree.

Sabbath afternoon, Rev. Mr. Colburn (Methodist) preached a very instructive sermon to his Sunday school. The church was very tastefully decorated with flowers, and a large audience were present.

The South Congregational Sunday School held a floral concert on Sabbath evening. A large number were present.

The committee chosen at a recent town meeting to take charge of the improvements on the Town House have contracted with a builder from Chelsea, who has taken the contract for about the amount appropriated. When completed it will make the Town Hall, as well as the whole building, more convenient.

Improvements are being made on French's Common. Mr. Henry A. Pierce is doing the work, and will make a good show for the money appropriated.

Weymouth Items.

Last Friday evening a reception was given in the lecture room of the Union Church, to the pastor, the Rev. L. H. Frary, who has recently returned from Europe. The room was filled to its most capacity. Congratulations were given by the Revs. Chapin, Jerome and Titus, also from Deas, Hill, C. G. Eastbrook and others. At the conclusion a poem, written by Dea. Gilbert Nash, was sung by the Congregation.

The Rev. P. A. Nordell, pastor of the Baptist Church, embarked last Saturday, for the old world, where during his stay he will visit many places of interest. Last Sunday his pulpit was supplied by Rev. Gideon Cole, a former pastor of that church. On Sunday, 20th, the pulpit will be supplied by Rev. Levi A. Abbott. Services at 10:30 A. M. and at 6 P. M. During the month of July the church will be closed for public worship, and the interior will be newly frescoed.

A chimney containing 24,000 bricks has been built on Hunt St., which site the large boot and shoe factory of Messrs. J. W. Hart & Co., now standing on Stetson St., will soon be moved.

Last Friday evening the steamer company were out for practice, and quickly four streams of water, were forced far above the vane and flag-staff, on the engine house.

Work has been commenced in rebuilding Cushing and Mellen's Green-house, which was partially burnt last fall. Mr. Alex. Sherman is the contractor.

Floral Sunday was observed at the Universalist Church last Sunday with appropriate exercises. A concert was given in the evening by the Sunday School.

THE FIRST FIRE ENGINE AT THE LANDING. On the 7th of April, 1807, a meeting of the young men of this village was called, for the purpose of forming themselves into an engine company. At which time a committee was chosen to procure a suitable machine.

At a subsequent meeting the Committee reported favorable and had contracted for the building of a house, the expense not exceeding $400. During the evening a constitution was drafted and received fifty-six signatures, each member paying into the treasury the sum of $30.

At the same time the appellation of "The Fire Engine Company" was adopted. At a subsequent meeting the Committee reported favorable and had contracted for the building of a house, the expense not exceeding $400. During the evening a constitution was drafted and received fifty-six signatures, each member paying into the treasury the sum of $30.

Mr. George A. Tirrell, a young deaf and dumb man belonging in this place was on board the steamer Stonington, the night of the collision with the steamer Narragansett.

Sailed from this port, on Tuesday evening on board the sloop "Escort," a cargo of the Amity club boys for some of the islands in Boston Harbor, from which they (?) will sometime return. A fine band of music has been engaged for the round trip. Shaw's drum corps consisting of one instrument. F. I. T.

CHILDREN'S SUNDAY. This day was duly observed at the Universalist Church last Sunday. The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers, and Rev. Mr. Perry had an appropriate address for the children. A son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Maxim was dedicated to the Lord, by an impressive ceremony by the pastor.

In the evening the Sabbath School gave a concert, which consisted of reading and speaking by the scholars, singing by the school and choir, and short addresses by the pastor, superintendent and by Mr. Wilmot Cleverly, of North Weymouth. The occasion was one of interest and pleasure.

EXCURSION. South Shore Commandery Knights Templars, Weymouth, will make a two days' excursion to Nahant, on Thursday and Friday of next week. They will be accompanied by ladies, and Thursday night an extensive programme is laid out, embracing a concert by the Medford Band, fireworks from the laboratory of Benj. M. Wedgwood and other amusements. Some forty members of the Commandery are in Quincy, and they all intend to participate in the enjoyments. Sir Knight G. Harvey Field has charge of the dance, while Sir Knights E. W. H. Bass and Edward Collier have charge of the Stoughton and Narragansett. The Hotel Narragansett, where the festivities take place, is under the management of Messrs. Hall & Whipple, of Young's Hotel, Boston. The moon shining full, no doubt many citizens will improve the occasion by a ride to the beach in the evening to hear the music and see the fireworks.

Henry Ward Beecher's house at Peabody, which he has been engaged in building for several years, will be, when furnished, the finest rural residence belonging to any American clergyman. It is said that he makes money rapidly, and spends it with equal rapidity. That he has handled more cash than any clergyman in this country.

The Norwood Women's Temperance League have announced by circulars that they will pay a reward of $25 to any person who shall cause the conviction of any person selling intoxicating liquors in the town of Norwood, either from wagon, house, store, or any place, after June 10.

E. T. Tollman and George W. Doe of the Worcester bicycle club, started for New York by bicycle on Saturday the 10th inst., arriving in that city the following Saturday evening, having made the 250 miles in easy jaunts of 40 or 50 miles a day.

Political.

The Young Republicans have some reason for congratulation over the Garfield nomination. Had it not been for the outcry raised by them, and by the Independents generally throughout the country, it is highly probable that General Grant would have been the party candidate. Thousands of men who were opposed to a third term were loud in their declarations, that though Grant ought not to be nominated yet they would vote for him if unfortunately he should be. Of course such statements had but little weight with the party managers.

As long as men could be got to vote for their candidate, the leading editor, who carried nothing but much they "squealed" at being compelled to do it. What did make an impression was the emphatic declaration, made by thousands, that in the event of Grant's being nominated, they would vote for him, and they were a serious consideration. If the bolters should be numerous, it might defeat the party at the polls.

As a matter of fact such probably would have been the result, if the Grant interest prevailed at Chicago.

But other counsels gained the day. The nomination of Garfield at once cleared the political sky. The gathered clouds that hung gloomy and sulphurous over the Republican encampment were dissipated. The place of Grant and anxiety confidence and hope reigned supreme in every patriotic mind.

The nomination was at once hailed as a good one. Even Democrats confessed that a ticket headed by the name of Garfield would be hard to defeat.

Nor was the triumph any the less glorious than it was accounted for, by a sense of victory gained over the ablest masters of political machinery, of the country contained.

Not only had the right man been selected for the standard bearer, but the power of the "machine" had been broken. It had put forth its whole strength, it had nearly won the battle, and it met with absolute defeat, a crushing defeat. The arrogant assumption of a few men, to control the politics of the nation, was rebuked, and rebuked with an emphasis that makes it memorable. On the whole the general result pleases nearly all Republicans.

Of course the Democrats would prefer an easier candidate to defeat.

It is easy to see that the nomination of Garfield has already had a very sobering effect on Democratic calculations. Tilden stock has markedly fallen. Only an irreproachable candidate can stand a shadow of a chance of succeeding against the Republican nominee. But none have a clearer right, or may more naturally be expected to rejoice over the outcome, than the Young Republican element in the country. It is their energy, their vigilance, their efforts, that contributed in a great measure to raise up the powerful obstacles, that the Grant leaders finally found insurmountable. Victory is always pleasant. It is certainly none the less so, when it comes distinctly in the line of duty, carrying the full approbation of conscience. LIBERAL REPUBLICAN.

LETTER NO. VII.

The Patent Office is another of those immense structures which makes Washington so beautiful. This building is very large, covering an entire square, and contains 191 rooms. Models of all the patents issued in the United States, since 1836, are to be found here. Many of them are also in the cases. Among them we saw Frank's printing press; also a tea set that belonged to Gen. Washington and some of his clothes. There are a great many curious patterns, which would interest a person of mechanical genius, in this building.

This Post Office is on the opposite side of the street, and is a beautiful white marble edifice. Like the Patent Office, it covers an entire square. It is divided into apartments suitable for the different branches of the department. The dead letter office is where our readers would find the most to interest them. It might be called a museum as its contents are so numerous and curious. Eighteen hundred foreign letters find their way to this office every month. Twelve thousand domestic letters are also received. We should think there are over a hundred men at work in a large room. Some were opening letters, which came from all parts of the Union, while others glanced at their headings. When valuables are found and a clue to the writer can be discovered, they are sent to the office from where posted. About $35,000 in money are found every year in letters, and $1,500,000 in check. About 95 per cent. of this money is returned to the owners. It is surprising to see how many of the letters are not stamped, or not directed properly about 50,000 of these unmailable letters are received every month. There are about 3,500,000 letters that find their way to the Dead Letter Office each year. Once in two years the articles which accumulate in this office are sold at auction. It is composed of a mixed mass: gold watches, jewelry, music, books, slippers, pipes, pampus grass, gloves, revolvers, brackets, handkerchiefs and photographs by the thousands. A very beautiful card picture was shown us, which was made of letters that were not stamped, which had been in Europe, the person to whom it was addressed referred to on account of the high postage, nearly forty dollars. The basket was an ordinary one and probably cost about three dollars. Two large snakes were shown us, which were sent through the mail alive. They were chloroformed and then placed in spirits. Many venomous reptiles are sent through the mails. One piece of paper was sent about three feet long carefully sewed up in cloth, were sent from South Carolina. The gentlemen in this department were very polite and gave all the information desired in a pleasing and entertaining manner. In fact every department we visited, the kindest attention was received.

The Government printing office is the largest printing establishment in the world, and is complete in all its equipments. It has turned out $1,000,000 volumes in a single year.

The fountain pens which have a very neat and inviting look. Everything needed to furnish a table was displayed in a tempting manner; while fragrant flowers growing in pots or arranged into bouquets were scattered around in profusion.

The Washington monument is a large plain marble obelisk, which was completed in 1848. It is now about 170 feet high. The interior of the walls is covered with stones from all parts of the world. It is in excellent condition. Many of the churches in Washington are very large and handsome.

The parks and squares are quite numerous. Fine buildings and statues ornament these beautiful places. Taste and taste has made Washington a lovely city. It is beautifully laid out, and its magnificent public structures and elegant private edifices make it one of the most beautiful cities in the Union.

CULTIVATION OF CLAM BEDS. The Newburyport Gleaner publishes the following concerning the clam beds of that locality:—
"The late Chief Justice Shaw decided that wherever a vessel can sail over a clam bed, there the clams are free to all. But notwithstanding this decision, the selectmen of Ipswich and Rowley say that no clams shall be taken from the flats from the 15th of May to the 15th of October. Their claims are dying out of date. If our State laws were more arbitrary restrictions and we were more obedient, we should have opened to the world from the first settlement by the Aborigines and we know not how far that dates back, but this we do know that when Cabot visited Merrimac in 1497, he found the Indians digging for clams from the same beds that our citizens commenced to take them from in 1644, and from that time since. And we have shown the world that for the proper propagation of the clam the mud needs as frequent stirring as the soil does." We have seen demonstrated during the half century we have lived upon the beautiful banks of the Merrimac just what we assert and in the winter months it is desirable employment to one hundred men to dig up millions of these flats go all over the country."

When a man like one of the Astors refuses to comply with the requirements of the census law, he ought to be punished to the fullest extent. It is a duty for every citizen to try to set a good example.—Boston Herald.

A Correction.

To the Publishers of the Patriot:—
I notice in your last issue a communication from Mr. W. C. Pierce, which he charges me with the authorship of the article in the previous number signed "F. H.'s." I notice in the way in which Mr. P. seeks to correct certain errors is shown by the fact that he is entirely mistaken as to the supposed author of the piece. Without the slightest reason whatever he proceeds to state "F. H.'s" intention of his own taste, and without assuming himself that he is correct, assails the one whom he fancies to be the author in a most ungentlemanly manner. We hope that in the future Mr. P. will be a little more careful with regard to personal remarks. We agree with Mr. P., however, in pronouncing "F. H.'s" criticism of the contralto as very unjust. Mr. Kendall's rendering was excellent and greatly appreciated by the audience.

The Jenkins House.

ATLANTIC, JUNE 16, 1880.

To the Publishers of the Patriot:—
As faithful journalists in recording events that transpire in our good old historical town, especially every event that tends to elevate its reputation, you will be pleased to learn, that no more intoxicating liquors will be sold at the house in the Jenkins House. Col. Jenkins will therefore give his special attention to permanent and transient boarders, and in supplying his daily patrons with good dinners and suppers with the very best the market affords and his celebrated fish dinners and chowders, which cannot be excelled will be served at short notice. Hisarder will also furnish game dinner for the week ends.

The grounds around the house furnish pleasant walks, and the majestic elm and other trees in full foliage nearly shade the entire premises, making the place very attractive and pleasurable. Croquet games can be played on the large lawn, with ample space for archery and lawn tennis. Bathing house on the beach will furnish an excellent opportunity for a salt water bath for amateur or expert swimming.

The location is quite rural, and being retired from dust of kind, the air is pure and bracing. There is no resort of its size on the shore, near Boston, that surpasses it, or where a few hours in a sultry day, can be spent more agreeably. Those who may favor the Colonel with a call, will not be disappointed.

A READER OF THE PATRIOT.

An Enjoyable Occasion.

To the Editors of the Patriot:—
Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hayward of East Braintree gave their annual strawberry entertainment, on the 13th inst., which was enjoyed by their friends in town also the friends from Quincy, East Milton and Boston. The day was beautiful and was spent in visiting the strawberry patch, the grove, yacht sailing, etc. Strawberries are some two weeks earlier in ripening than they were last season, and are fine in flavor and large in size, and were highly enjoyed by the friends. Two bountiful collations were served during the day and last, but not least, three hours were spent in listening to messages from spirit friends, through several mediums who were present. It was difficult to know which was enjoyed the most by the company, the things material or the things spiritual. The company was made up mostly by spiritualists and they seemed delighted with their entertainment and separated with the heartiest wishes and remembrance of the past and bright anticipation of the future. I am doubtless expressing the views of the company, when I say that Mr. and Mrs. Hayward know how to entertain friends and "keep hotel."

I would like to say a word concerning Mr. Hayward's grove. If railroad accommodations were better I do not know of a grove so near Boston, that has so many advantages as this one: the trees are good size; ground clean; a good view is given up and great facilities for sailing. Such a nice spot for a good meeting could not be found in a day's ride from Boston, and it seems strange that it has not been utilized for such a purpose ere this time.

ONE OF THE COMPANY.

In these days of sunstrokes and wet corn, let it be remembered that a wet cloth worn in the hat, or a cabbage leaf, will prevent it. Sunstroke is only a form of apoplexy, and a simple means of prevention is easily tried.

"The New Bedford Mercury" very truthfully says: "The young man who goes on a drunk and wants his name kept out of his police court reports on account of his mother, generally appreciates the motive force of the law as a means of hiding his own misdeeds."

"John Guild's" house in Stoughton, recently caught fire from the heat of concentrated sun's rays, reflected from tin milk pans set out to dry. When the flames next struck the roof, in three places. Had the family been absent, the house would have been burned, and tramps would have been charged with setting the fire.

"It is feared that the army worms which is making fearful ravages on Long Island Sound, have reached England. The worms march in solid phalanx and devour everything before them. A 40-acre field of rye, worth $1000, was attacked last week, and in 60 hours was ruined. The crows preyed on the active agents in destroying the pest."

SPORTING. The amount of money which changes hands in connection with the English turf is enormous. From February to November, inclusive, there were 27 horse meetings, at which the value of the stakes was nearly $2,500,000, and sixteen men netted over $850,000 the winner of the Derby taking away $35,000. Lord Falmouth, without betting, has won $600,000 in six years with his horses, and leading jockies receive salaries of thousands of dollars a year. The same horse has more than once won the two thousand guineas stake, the Derby and the St. Leger, and last year these three represented an aggregate of nearly $100,000.

The following was the Language test:—

1. Paul Revere's Ride.

He said to his friend "If the British
By land or sea from the town to-n-
Hanging a lantern aloft in the belfry ar-
Of the North Church tower as a light,—
One if by land, and two, if by sea;
And I on the opposite shore will be,
Ready to ride and spread the alarm
Through every Middlesex village and farm,
For the country-folk to be up and at Write what Paul Revere said friend, in prose.

Home from his journey Farmer John
Arrived this morning safe and sound.
His black coat off, and his old cloth
" Now I'm myself," said Farmer John,
And he thinks, " I'll look around."
Up leaps the dog: " Get down you
Are you so glad you would eat me up?
The old cow lows at the gate to greet
The horses prick up their ears to meet

Do you get good food when I'm away?

Write a story, in your own words, putting in all the ideas of the stanza, without having it read like a story.

2. Describe your own school room.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1880.

The Army Worm in Quincy.

The army worm, which has recently been the terror of Delaware, New Jersey and Long Island has made its appearance in Quincy. They were found in large numbers on the farm of John Q. A. Field, Esq., on Payne's Hill, on Monday morning. They were noticed early in the morning devouring the tops of Timothy, and so rapid was their work that Mr. Field felt that the only way to save his grass was to cut it. A Westbrook farmer says he has discovered that the worms are averse to the heat of the sun, and do the most of their mischief in the early morning and the shades of evening. He adds: "They burrow into the tender shoots, having escaped themselves therein, out of the reach of the sun's rays, keep up their eating until the stalk is hollow and the life gone. They then get out of that and crawl to the next stalk, and if some other worm has cleared that out ahead of them they crawl on to eat it. Remedies tried are various. Stamping to death is resorted to, but is not effective, as the worms grow and advance faster than the destroyers can kill them. Plowing a ditch around the army and filling it with tar is much recommended, but in one case the worms marched steadily into the ditch till it was full, and then the rear of the vast host crossed on the bodies of their dead comrades.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT. Last Monday noon Mrs. Henry D. Burr, of Atlantic, was terribly burned with kerosene, from an oil stove. The accident occurred at her son's residence, their premises being quite near. A kerosene stove was in operation and fears were felt that it might explode, when her daughter called for help. Mr. Burr immediately to her assistance and was about to take the stove out of doors when his daughter begged him not to. Mrs. Burr, who is a little lad of hearing followed her husband and not hearing what had been said caught up the stove and was carrying it out when the oil spilled on to her dress and in a second she was a lighted torch. Her husband and two daughters rushed to her assistance, but before her clothes could be torn from her, she was terribly burned on her limbs and body almost to the waist. Her husband had both of his hands and arms quite badly burned and was also badly scorched on the chin and side of his neck. Two of her daughters who ran to aid in getting off her clothes were quite severely burned on the hands. Mrs. Burr is a middle-aged lady and is highly respected, and her friends and neighbors sympathize with her and her family in their severe sufferings. Mrs. Burr is a terrible sufferer from her burns, but everything that can be done to alleviate her pain is tried. It is the wish of her large circle of friends that she may soon be restored to health. This sad event casts a deep gloom over a happy and united family.

PLEASANT TIME. Some twenty-five members of the South Shore Commandery of Knight Templars, of this town, marched to the depot, on Thursday morning, in handsome regalia, with gilded swords, where they took the cars for a two days' excursion to Nantasket beach. The day was one on which a trip to the beach was really enjoyable, and arriving in Boston they joined the knights from Weymouth and formed a line, and headed by the Marshal and Marshal's aid, the parade was headed by the March of the Knights of the Wharf, where they embarked on the steamer Rose Standish for the beach, arriving there about 12 o'clock, marching directly to the hotel Nantasket, where they were to make their headquarters during the week. The knights were accompanied by their ladies and the time was highly enjoyed. In the evening a large number of our citizens proceeded to the beach to participate in the pleasures of the evening, which consisted of a hand concert, fireworks, and concluding with a dance.

BARING ACT. A friend in East Milton wrote to the Patriot in relation to a meritorious and worthy deed, which occurred in that place, and to which he was an eye witness.

Last Sunday morning as one of the drivers from the factory of C. L. Farnsworth, of Hyde Park, was driving home, he had his horse become frightened by the cars and started on a run. In pulling on the reins to stop the animal his horse broke and he rushed into the sidewalk where several persons were playing. With one bound the driver reached the horse's head and caught him by the neck and was dragged in this perilous condition for a long distance, when he thought the animal to a stand still, by grabbing him by the nose and then shouting to the driver. The young man deserves more than passing word of praise, as he saved his own life and limb to save that of others, and protect the property of his employer.

GLASS BALL SHOOT. On Saturday afternoon last several members of the Quincy Mount Shooting Club assembled at their range for their regular fortnightly glass ball shoot, but there being but few members present it was decided not to have the regular shoot, but simply a practice shoot. After which there was a challenge match between Messrs. Edward H. Hubbard and John Curtis, 21, for the Silver Badge, which was won by the latter. The following is the result:

Butter Points	Score	Total
John Curtis, 21	9	9
Edward Hubbard	9	18

ARRIVALS. The following vessels have arrived at Quincy Point the present week:

June 20, Schooner John Strong, Capt. Fuller, from New York, with White Ash coal, to Cyrus Park.

June 22, Schooner Helena R. Russell, Capt. Meloy, to load with granite for New Bedford.

REPUBLICAN GROVE MEETING. Arrangements have been made by the Massachusetts Republican State Committee for a grand Republican meeting to take place in Silver Lake Grove, July 5. The best speakers are invited to take part in the meeting, and the affair promises to be very successful.

BREITARY. The carriage manufacturing of Messrs. Tibbitt & Sons was entered on Wednesday night and two cars of varnish and some varnish brushes, of the value of thirty dollars, were stolen. The rogues decamped by the back door and was traced as far as the railroad.

The Quincy High School.

The graduating exercises of the Quincy High School took place at the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening last, June 23d. The attendance was very large, filling the hall to its utmost capacity. The class was the largest, we believe, that has ever graduated from this school, and the pupils did credit to their teachers and to themselves.

The platform was beautifully decorated with hot-house plants and flowers, and to the panel in the rear were tacked the following letters, made of red rose on a green ground, which looked pretty by gaslight:

Q. H. S.
PAS A PAS.

MUSIC.
PRESENTATION OF DIPLOMAS.
AWARDING OF MEDALS.

The exercises throughout were unusually interesting, and although it was very warm in the hall, the utmost attention was given. At the close of the exercises John Q. Adams, Esq., made a short address, praising the scholars, and closing by saying that the public schools in this town were never better than they were to-day. He then presented the diplomas to the graduating classes.

The committee appointed to award the silver medals, as prizes, consisting of Prof. Benjamin F. Tweed, of Cambridgeport, Prof. Walton, of West Newton, Mr. Haver of Somerville, and L. W. Anderson and Rev. Edward A. Perry, of Quincy, then announced through Prof. Tweed their decision, which was as follows:

Composition. Annie E. Parker.
Sight Reading. George A. Devlin.
Prepared Reading. Susan F. Coddige.

The gymnastics by the Coddington School were excellent and were heartily enjoyed.

The following is the list of graduates from the grammar schools:

Quincy Point Items.

Sunday the Rev. Mr. Ames of Easton preached in the Christian Union Church, and in the course of his sermon alluded to the "Boston Herald" as a cause of Sabbath breaking, inasmuch as people stopped at home to read the Sunday Herald instead of going to church.

Wednesday evening the Quincy Point Temperance Association held its regular meeting; a small audience was present, owing to the other exercises in the Town Hall.

The Fourth of July committee met at Baptist Hall, Wednesday evening, to arrange for the celebration mentioned last week, and the full programme will appear in your next issue.

The improvement of Washington street, is fast approaching completion, and after a few rains have come to set the new sidewalks, we think the people will be pleased with the alteration.

The last meeting of the Quincy Point Temperance Association, previous to its summer vacation, will be held Wednesday evening at Baptist Hall; a full attendance is desired.

The Vulture engine is finished and will be returned to Quincy the first of the week.

The people of this district attended the graduation exercises of the Grammar schools in large numbers and returned home well paid for their trouble. We were well pleased with the success of Miss Susie F. Coddige. The parents of the graduating class of the Washington school feel proud to know that the class takes as a whole had a higher percentage of their examination than any of the others.

How long will the residents of the easterly portion of Washington street submit to the inconvenience of the dust? Is there no one to head a movement to procure a watering cart and a tank? Here is a chance for some one to confer a great benefit.

For the Patriot.
Wollaston Heights.

"Never attended a better!" was the exclamation of more than one who left at the close of the Floral Concert, in the Baptist Church; here last Sabbath evening. The recitations by classes were prompt. The singing, especially the humming song of nature, was charming and harmonized with the beautiful floral display in the church. Remarks were made by Mr. Hyde and Dr. Hogue, the pastor, on Robert Raikes the originator of Sunday schools. The latter, as usual was largely made from his own personal observation, on both continents. In speaking of what Raikes' Sunday School has done for English cities, the Doctor compared Boston, when he was a lad, with its organized gangs of North End and South End ruffians, who used to meet regularly on the Common for Sunday afternoon fights, with Boston now. His conclusion was that the Sunday School was the great moral power in our country.

Dr. Mark Trafton talked to the young folks in the Congregational Church Sunday morning from the text, "Rejoice O Young Man, &c." He showed that the nature of the religion of the Bible, was to make people of cheerful and light hearted; that melancholy and church manners were begotten of physical maladies, not of piety toward God. He failed however to show clearly how manners nature into morals. By the way, the school of our excellent preachers show our young folks the relation between the talk of the corner grocery, the flirty jests of the sidewalk at the evening hour, and the evil communications of the school yard; and corruption of soul and body in adult life? How men have to be educated in childhood, for the broiled, the gambling den, the grog shop and the penitentiary? We hope at a future time to hear further from the same origin and faithful preacher in matters pertaining to the morals of the young. Quite a number of city gentlemen, who have signed "for a lodge," where mosquitoes, fleas and the other concomitants of a city located in houses, are never found, have taken summer quarters on these Heights.

Five years more will make that old sheep pasture "a favorite resort for culture, wealth, and we hope, sound morality."

For the Patriot.
A Word to the Wife.

The study of Natural History in its various branches is wisely encouraged by the teachers of our public schools. It is of course quite necessary that specimens of insects (if they are the insects of local origin) should be secured. The children should then be encouraged to make collections.

Either of the following ways is far preferable:

By dropping a small quantity of chloroform upon any insect, or by shutting it up in a box or jar in which chloroform has been placed, the life of the insect is quickly and painlessly taken, and no harm is done to color, form or plumage.

If a small piece of cyanide of potassium is wrapped in paper and placed in a jar, any insect dropped into the jar will die, and will be the best possible condition to be placed in the cabinet. It must be borne in mind that this substance is an instant poison and must be handled with extreme care. Children should never be allowed to touch it. For this reason the writer deems chloroform the better to use.

NATURALIST.

"A Providence, R. I., lady visited a store to purchase a pair of gloves. She tried on one or two pairs before becoming satisfied. A few days afterwards she missed a valuable gold ring from her finger. It was searched for with very little success, and was given up. At the expiration of nearly a year she went into the same store again on the same errand as before. In the finger of the first pair she tried on she found her long lost ring, where she left it in pulling off her glove a year ago.

The Democratic Convention.

The Democrats at their National Convention held this week at Cincinnati, selected on the second ballot, Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock, of Pennsylvania, as their standard bearer.

Major-General Hancock is the senior major-general of the regular army, and almost from his youth has been distinguished for gallant service. He was born in Montgomery county, Pa., Feb. 14, 1824, and consequently is 56 years old. He comes from sound Anglo-Saxon stock. Hancock entered West Point in 1840 and graduated in 1844. He immediately entered the army as brevet second lieutenant, and has filled honor and respected positions from that time. His services during the late rebellion were gallant and meritorious.

Hon. William H. English of Indiana fills the second place on the ticket. He was born in Scott county, Indiana, Aug. 27, 1822. He received a college education, is a successful lawyer, has been speaker of the Indiana Legislature, Member of Congress from 1853 to 1861, and has held many other offices in the gift of the public. He is reported to be very wealthy and amply able to supply the demands incident to a political campaign.

The nominations are received by the Democratic party with enthusiasm, and it is believed to be a very strong ticket.

THE PROHIBITORY CONVENTION.
The Prohibitory party held its national convention at Cleveland, last week. There were 142 delegates present, representing twelve states. Rev. Dr. Miner Bacon presided, and himself and Judge James Black of Pennsylvania did most of the specifying. Neal Dow of Maine was nominated by acclamation for President of the United States, and A. O. Thomson of Westerville, O., for Vice-President. —Milford Journal.
